SAVE WIFE, BURRIGHT'S HOPE

Arson Suspect Would Take Stand to Prove Her Innocence

"Truax," Alleged Accomplice, Is Arrested in South

Charles Lester Burright, alleged head of the "arson syndicate," will go upon the witness stand in an effort to save his wife, Jean, from being convicted of the crime of arson, according to Attorney H. J. Wildgrube, who appeared for the Burrights in the preliminary examination before Judge L. R. Weinmann, sitting for Judge Mortimer Smith. Wildgrube asked the privilege of placing Burright on the witness stand with the stipulation that his statements as to his wife's innocence should not be used against him.

The effort will be made to save Mrs. Burright, and, if necessary, Burright will sacrifice his own interests to that end, it was intimated today.

William O. Truax, a Los Angeles jeweler and said to be proprietor of the "Planters" Hotel, Calexico, was taken into custody in the South today and charged with arson. It is alleged by the police he was implicated in the confession made by Charles L. Burright, under arrest, here. The police say Truax was concerned in a half dozen incendiary fires in Los Angeles and Inglewood.

Truax was named by Burright, according to Captain of Inspectors Peterson, as his accomplice in burning down a dwelling house at Tremont station, near Los Angeles. The two collected, according to Burright, about $2,000 in insurance. Burright gave a description of Truax and told where he could be found. The information supplied by Burright made possible his arrest in Los Angeles today, according to Peterson. Truax is not wanted for fires in the Bay region.

WITNESSES EXAMINED.
The entire morning was spent examining witnesses in the Burright case, and the hearing was continued at noon till tomorrow morning. Wildgrube interrupted numerous objections to the introduction of testimony, declaring that the evidence was inadmissible, as the corpus delicti shall be established, the testimony objected to shall be stricken out. The corpus delicti in the arson case is the fact that the crime of arson has been committed; that there has in fact been an incendiary fire. This must be preliminary to other proof or to the introduction of confessions. The house entirely destroyed before the arrival of the fire department, and the police have been unable to prove so far that the fire might not have been caused by some accident.

Interminating testimony was provided against Burright, showing that he had insured the furniture for $1000 in the Home Insurance Company of New York, but had represented her name to be "Mrs. Jeanette Barnes." She had appeared at the office for the insurance company with a "Mr. Barnes," but this man is said not to resemble Burright.

THE SPECIFIC CHARGE.
The specific charge against the Burrights is that they burned down a house at Fifty-fifth avenue and Trumbull street in December, 1914, and subsequently secured insurance to the amount of $1000 on the furniture.

Assistant Fire Chief W. M. McGrath testified that the house was far from a hydrant, necessitating the use of hose from a fire companies to "make the distance." Burright has confessed that he selected places where fire-fighting would be difficult.

Charles I. McGill, 717 Haddon road, who dealt with Mrs. Burright in connection with the insurance taken out through his father, R. H. McGill, local manager for the Home Insurance Company, testified that the company had never inspected the furniture. The loss was paid without question.

R. K. Tompkins testified that Burright had purchased twelve gallons of turpentine from his store in Twelfth street just prior to the fire. Two witnesses questioned were Mrs. M. H. Hustler and Miss Evelyn McGill.

McManigal Tells What He Will Say
By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—Ortie McManigal, self-confessed dynamiter and accomplice of the McNamara brothers, who recently returned from Honduras with a detective from the district attorney's office, today was heard today with the assistants of the district attorney, in which he rehearsed. It is said, the testimony he will give at the trial of Matthew A. Schmidt and David Kaplan on charges of murder in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building in October, 1910.

The trial of Schmidt will begin Monday. The accused will have separate trials. More than 150 witnesses have been summoned for the prosecution.

Sues for $7,500,000 From R. I. Directors
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Jacob M. Dickinson, receiver of the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, today brought suit in the Supreme Court here to recover $7,500,000 from the directors of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company.

West Indian Gale Passes Over South Forerunner of the Storm Reaches Louisiana

By Associated Press.
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—A forerunner of the West Indian hurricane was sweeping northward over Southeastern Louisiana early today. The weather bureau issued a warning that its center probably would pass between New Orleans and Atchafalaya bay, eighty miles southwest of here, and that the gales probably would reach hurricane force and high tides prevail. The wind in New Orleans reached forty-eight miles an hour at 9 o'clock and was increasing.

At 11 o'clock the wind here had increased to 50 miles an hour and the barometer stood at 29.32.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 29.—Wire service between Texas and New Orleans and points in that vicinity was stopped early today by the tropical storm.

MORGAN CITY, La., Sept. 29.—The wind was blowing at 75 miles an hour here at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Wire communication is badly crippled.

CALL MEETING TO CONSIDER ARBITRATION

At a special meeting of the directors and officers of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway, called for tomorrow afternoon, the question of whether or not the employees of the corporation shall go on a general strike will be finally decided. At this time the officers will answer "yes" or "no" to the demands of the union men for the submission of existing troubles to a board of arbitration.

Members of the grievance committee of the Carmen's Union said today that a strike was inevitable. If the company officers refused to submit the present trouble to arbitration, Robert Bendle, chairman of this committee, announced this afternoon that the action of the company officials at tomorrow's meeting will be awaited by the car men before any further action is taken.

"There will be but one thing to do if the company turns down our arbitration proposal," Ben F. Boyveer, eighth international president of the union, said. "That will be to strike. In spite of the fact that the members of the union have already voted for a strike, by a vote of ten to one, another special meeting will be called in the event arbitration is refused, and the question again submitted to the balloting of all the members."

The matter of arbitration was submitted to the company officers by the grievance committee late yesterday afternoon after President O. K. Weeks and Director W. I. Brobeck of the company had refused to treat with the grievance committee on the question of reinstating two dockhands, holding that their cases did not come under the provisions of the existing agreement between the corporation and the members of the union.

The arbitration letter is terse and asks the question: "Will the company submit to arbitration the question of whether or not to reinstate the two dockhands and track officers recognized by the provisions of the agreement with the union?"

Board to Sue for State Land Money

By Associated Press.
SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29.—The state board of control today announced that it is preparing to take up with Attorney General Webb the matter of endeavoring to procure a return of money which W. M. Bowen received in the sale of lots while acting as attorney for the Sixth District Agricultural Association at Los Angeles.

Bowen was discharged by the directors of the association after charges had been preferred against him by John Nyejan, chairman of the state board of control, who produced evidence that Bowen had used his office for profit.

The method by which the state board hopes to secure a return of the three lots Bowen sold is the ground that the Supreme Court has held that the lots were state property.

New U. S. Submarine M-1 Proves Success
By Associated Press.
PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Sept. 29.—Representatives of the navy department were gratified today by a satisfactory test of the new giant submarine M-1, which has just been built by the Fore River Shipbuilding Company at Quincy. The submarine passed through a preliminary trip in Provincetown harbor yesterday successfully, having completed an underwater cruise about the harbor with navy officers and agents of the builders on board. The trial spin was for the purpose of testing the operation of the new craft. Attempts at diving records will be made later. The M-1 is said to be larger than the famous German U boats.

FORM BODY TO FLOAT LOAN

Syndicate to Have Membership From Coast to Coast

Bonds to Be Sold at Four Points Under Par Value

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Definite formation of the big syndicate of bankers who will float the half billion dollar credit loan to Great Britain and France was begun today by J. P. Morgan & Company and other financiers. It is proposed to make the syndicate the largest of its kind ever seen in this country and to include in its membership banks, trust companies and individuals from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

In every large city or financial center in the United States there is to be, under the present plan, a group of bankers who will act as syndicate managers. In the South and West these groups will operate over somewhat enlarged areas. In the Middle West, the North Atlantic states and New England, where the population is dense, the groups will, in some cases, confine their activities practically to the city in which the member banks are located and its immediate suburbs.

The agreement which will be embodied in the contract requires the ratification of both the British and French parliaments and the contract cannot be signed until this is forthcoming. It is extremely unlikely, however, that ratification will be refused or even delayed.

PRICE IS SURPRISE.
Nothing was said about the exclusion of purchase of war munitions. The most surprising feature was the price at which the big syndicate is to sell the underlying syndicate bonds. Previous reports had ranged from 97½ to 99. The bonds will be placed on the market at 98 to the investor. The 2 per cent difference in the prices to the syndicate and the investor will provide a profit to the syndicate and reimburse them for the expenses incidental to the loan's flotation.

Because the bonds will be sold four points under their par value Great Britain and France will have placed to their credit here, not $500,000,000, but $480,000,000. In other words, the two nations are paying $20,000,000 for the privilege of buying American products at top of the market prices.

In addition to this $20,000,000, two countries will pay $25,000,000 annually for five years in interest to the holders of the bonds.

Individuals wishing to buy large blocks of the bonds may join the syndicate, it was announced, but a limit, yet to be disclosed, will be placed on individual purchases. To accommodate small investors, bonds will be issued in denominations as low as $100 and may be paid for in installments, whose amounts are yet to be determined.

BRITISH VIEW.
By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 29.—The definite announcement of the terms on which the Anglo-French loan is to be issued to the United States was about in line with the expectations of British financiers. Though the yield is shade higher than had been looked for originally in some quarters, the general opinion is that heroic measures are necessary to review the deadlock in exchange, which had been allowed to continue for so long.

It is felt here that the advantage rests with America in obtaining such a good rate of interest and facilities for its export trade, although England also reaps benefit by the postponement for at least five years of payment of the debit for goods received.

The question of exchange is now of first importance. Belief is expressed in banking and exchange circles that further measures will be necessary to bring the rate more nearly to a parity with the gold standard. It is known that a good deal of money is being held for remittance as soon as cable transfers reach 4.80.

The loan now arranged will cancel part of the adverse trade balance, but in view of the coming shipments of cotton and grain, which will swell this balance, it is believed that further action will be necessary. The high yield must not be looked upon, in view of the coming shipments of cotton and grain, which will swell this balance, it is believed that further action will be necessary. The high yield must not be looked upon, in view of the coming shipments of cotton and grain, which will swell this balance, it is believed that further action will be necessary.

BANKS TO KEEP OUT.
By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—That local bankers probably would not participate in the Anglo-French loan as banks, but that the Middle West financiers as individuals would subscribe to the foreign loan, seemed the prevailing opinion in banking circles.

Many consultations were held by Thomas W. Lamont, representative of J. P. Morgan & Co., with officials of bond houses.

Search Mine Depths for Editor's Slayer
By Associated Press.
WALSBURG, Colo., Sept. 29.—A posse composed of thirty-six experienced miners and deputy sheriffs searched the underground workings of the Walsen mine early today without finding a trace of the slayer of Robert Mitchell, editor and politician.

ALLIES REPULSED BY GERMAN FORCES IN WEST

TURKS FLEE BEFORE ALLIES

Important Victory at Mesopotamia for British

English Troopship Sunk With Heavy Loss of Life

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 29, 3:28 p. m.—The British have won an important success in Mesopotamia. The Turks are in full retreat toward Bagdad. The British are pursuing the retreating Turks.

Announcement to this effect was made in the House of Commons today by Austen Chamberlain, secretary of state for India.

Official records of the campaign in Mesopotamia have been bare of details. The last official statements conveyed the inference that the fighting on this front was comparatively unimportant. It is not improbable that a new expeditionary force has been sent in by the British. Reports during the last few weeks have shown that large bodies of Italian and British troops were being forwarded toward Turkey. It was generally assumed that these forces would be employed on the Gallipoli front or in Syria.

For some time the British and Turks have been fighting near the junction of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers, which is about 250 miles from Bagdad.

MANY DIE ON TRANSPORT

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, by wireless to Sayville, Sept. 29.—The sinking of a British transport, with the loss of all but a few members of the crew, is reported in a dispatch from Constantinople today to the Overseas News Agency.

A special dispatch from Constantinople says that the Italian battleship Benedetto Brin sank, following an explosion which resulted from the fire on board the vessel. The cause of the disaster has not been ascertained.

This is the second report of the sinking of a British transport with Indian troops. An Athens dispatch earlier today said that Ramazan had been sunk by a submarine. It is possible that the two dispatches are different versions of the same incident.

BENEDETTO BRIN GOES DOWN

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 29.—A dispatch from the Staffans News Agency of Rome says that the Italian battleship Benedetto Brin sank, following an explosion which resulted from the fire on board the vessel. The cause of the disaster has not been ascertained.

The announcement last night of the explosion on the Benedetto Brin did not make clear whether the vessel had gone down. It was said eight officers and 379 marines had been saved. Something over 300 men are still unaccounted for.

Airmen Drop Bombs on Serbian Cities

By Associated Press.
NISH, via London, Sept. 29.—The following official statement has been issued at the Serbian war office: "On the 24th hostile aeroplanes flew over Podjevac, dropping two bombs and killing three men, but doing no damage of military significance. On the 25th they again dropped bombs, killing one man. The enemy says that the two detachments vainly to cross the Drina near Resnik. A similar attempt was made near Poracinitz the night of the 24th."

Indict Mrs. Mohr As Murder Accessory
By Associated Press.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 29.—Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr was indicted by the grand jury here today as an accessory before the fact in connection with the killing of her husband, Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, on August 31 last, and three negroes, Cecil Victor Brown, Henry Spellman and George W. Healls were indicted on the charge of murder.

Another indictment charged the negroes with assault with intent to kill Miss Emily G. Burger and Mrs. Mohr as an accessory before the fact. Each of the defendants pleaded not guilty.

Von Hindenburg May Take Command of the Kaiser's Forces in France in Place of Dismissed Generals

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, via London, Sept. 29, 4 p. m.—Recapture from the British of part of the territory won from the Germans north of Loos was announced today by the war office.

French attacks near Souchez and Neuville are said to have been "partly repulsed." In the Champagne district French attempts to break through the German lines are said to have been unsuccessful. The text of the statement follows:

"Western theater.—The enemy's attempts to break through our lines continued with bitterness in the present region of attacks. A counter attack following another fruitless British attack, led to the recapturing of part of the territory we abandoned north of Loos."

Von Hindenburg May Command in West

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 29, 3:32 p. m.—German newspapers today announced that two generals, unnamed, have been dismissed from German commands in the western war zone in connection with the recent "setback" at the hands of the French and British, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

It is probable, the dispatch adds, that a new German commander-in-chief of the western arms soon will be appointed. In this connection the name of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is mentioned.

Allies Reach Third Defense Line at Loos

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 29, 12:55 p. m.—The British are battering the third line of the Germans in the vicinity of Loos. The French are maintaining their offensive in Champagne. The Germans in the Argonne apparently have been unable to make important gains and have refrained from infantry attacks. This sums up briefly the situation in the west as seen in London today.

England attaches high importance to indications that the offensive movement of the allies is not to be relaxed. A short breathing spell has been succeeded by the hardest pressure on German positions at the points weakened or shattered by the artillery rush.

That it is the intention to maintain this pressure is indicated by a telegram from Field Marshal French to the lord mayor of London thanking him for his message of good-will. The British commander added that the message encouraged his troops "to push the immediate success to a really decisive issue." This leads the public to believe there is to be no stalemate, such as followed the battle of Neuve Chapelle, but that with new British forces in the field and ample supplies of ammunition, General Joffre's Field Marshal French plan a real test whether German resistance in France and Belgium can be broken.

Russia, though encouraged by the progress of her allies in the west, has not been doing so well in the last day or two. The Austrians have stemmed the Russian advance in Southern Poland and retaken Lutsk. The Germans are renewing the great movement against Dvinsk.

Bulgaria has not replied to Foreign Secretary Grey's "friendly ultimatum," but special dispatches from Athens and other points say a change is noted at Sofia, and that events are now less likely to take a turn unfavorable to the entente powers.

German Casualties in France, 120,000
By Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 29.—German casualties in the recent offensive of the French and British, including killed, wounded and prisoners, were given officially by the French war office today as in excess of the strength of three army corps, more than 120,000 men.

There is no interruption of the fighting in Champagne. Progress of the French in the Artois region, Northwestern France, continues. North of Massiges, the war office says 1000 Germans surrendered.

BULGAR MINISTERS RESIGN
By Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 29.—A Havas dispatch from Athens says: "The Bulgarian ministers of finance and commerce have resigned, according to a report received from a reliable source in Sofia. The real cause is said to be the complete disagreement of these cabinet members with Premier Radoslavoff on the policy to be followed in view of the determined attitude of Greece."

King Ferdinand granted an audience to former Premier Malinoff, leader of the party favorable to Russia, and asked him, it is understood, to form a new cabinet.

Arrests Follow Fire at Miramar Cafe
By Associated Press.
SAUSALITO, Cal., Sept. 29.—Two men were held here today in connection with the burning of the Miramar Cafe early today, after a telegram inquiring about the fire from Mrs. New Matcovich at Sacramento, addressed to her husband, was opened by the police. The men arrested were Matcovich, proprietor of the place, and Otto Vilovich, a waiter.

The Miramar was a landmark, a resort for fishermen, built over the bay.

TEACHER PUZZLE IS FACING BOARD

Shift of Attendance After the Opening of Technical School Brings Problem.

Because the Fremont and Technical High Schools have drawn all the pupils in their neighborhoods, and the Vocational School many more, the Board of Education is facing a queer problem in teachers. The Oakland High School, at Twelfth and Grove streets, formerly the most important high school in the city, is now the lowest in school attendance, but, not foreseeing this, the board last year employed a large force of teachers.

As a result these teachers, already employed, had to be placed in the Technical High School, where they are doing the work, supposed to be done by technical experts. The board has not funds to employ extra teachers, and cannot dismiss the teachers already employed. As the result mechanical drawing and kindred subjects are being taught by academic teachers.

The problem was brought before the board some time ago and has been discussed several times in committee. To-night will probably see an attempt made to discuss the matter.

One course, to stop drawing, is being taught by a teacher trained in geometrical drawing. Principal P. M. Fisher was recently obtained, at an extra appropriation, as teacher in shop mathematics, but no more such extra teachers can be provided out of this year's funds, and, rather than spend more money, the board is attempting to economize to raise money to settle the Chabot Observatory debts.

The Chabot problem and the teachers' puzzle will be decided tonight, it is believed, several committee reports on the matter having been made.

EMERYVILLE RACE TRACK DOOMED

Buildings to Be Razed and the Property Subdivided for Factories and Homes.

With the call for bids, issued today by the Lee estate, owners of the property on which the buildings stand, first steps were taken toward the razing of grand stand, paddocks and the other buildings of the Emeryville race track. Announcement was made yesterday that the California Jockey Club, leasing the land, had decided that racing in California is doomed forever, and had given up its lease.

The big track, comprising thirty acres of Emeryville land lying along the Southern Pacific tracks, will be subdivided and sold, according to Hubert Lee, who is handling the business arrangements.

The track was taken over by the California Jockey Club in 1912, with Tom Williams as president of the body, which position he has held to the present day. At the time racing was barred in California the club decided to maintain the track in the hope that it might at a later date be resumed.

There are stables on the track for the housing of 1000 horses, and every possible facility for the racing of horses. The track was known as one of the best in the United States.

A portion of the site will be available for factory property, lying as it does directly in the factory district, and the remainder will make residence property.

Swedish Neutrality Strictly Enforced

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Swedish neutrality is being enforced to the extent that American Red Cross surgeons serving with the Russian army are not permitted to cross the border in Russian uniforms, according to Dr. Dean F. Winn of Atlanta, Ga., a Red Cross surgeon, who arrived here today on the steamship United States from Copenhagen.

Bishop J. A. L. Nielsen of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who has been in charge of mission work in Europe, was among the passengers. He said he was going to attend the conference of Methodist bishops to be held at San Diego, Cal., in October.

The United States after leaving Copenhagen was held up and taken into Kirkwall by a British cruiser and detained there for thirty-seven hours while her papers were examined.

LAD DIES OF INJURIES INFLECTED BY TRUCK

Aaron Whitson, 12 years of age, died at Providence Hospital this morning as the result of injuries received last evening when he was run over by a heavy truck driven by George Wilber. Wilber, who was placed under arrest on a technical charge of manslaughter will be released pending the findings of the coroner's jury at the inquest concerning the death of the boy. The Whitson boy was playing in the street near his home, 411 Thirty-seventh street, when the accident occurred. Witnesses differed as to the responsibility for the accident. The mother of the boy is prostrated at her home.

TREASURER'S OFFICE TO BE REORGANIZED

Civil Service Board Plans Changes to Save Over $4000 a Year

The civil service board last night adopted recommendations covering the plan for the reorganization of the treasurer's office, with the understanding that the ordinance embodying its proposed changes will be presented by Commissioner of Revenue and Finance W. H. Edwards today.

The change will save $4000 a year in the payment of salaries. The board's recommendations with regard to this department earlier in the year saved $4000, making a total of $2000.

"That almost justifies our existence," suggested President of the Board Howard D. Jones.

The reorganization plan contemplates, according to the statement made by one of the board members, that the treasurer should assume the duties and perform the functions of a city treasurer. With this conception of the situation, the board has eliminated one position of chief clerk, which paid $1500 a year. It has been recommended by Commissioner W. H. Edwards that City Treasurer P. A. Cooley had been somewhat helpless in the office, as he was not familiar with the duties of the position.

"The only chance that this organization shall work well is that each man in the office shall do the work assigned to him," said Jones. "Our efficiency depends upon the use of each man to the fullest extent of his capacity, and at length, we have had Mr. Edwards, Mr. Cooley, Chief Deputies Fitzmaurice and McGuinness agree that this plan of organization is all right, if the treasurer will perform the work assigned to him, and will not call upon the chief clerk to leave his own work and help out too often. The chief clerk cannot do his own work and that of the treasurer as well."

President Jones went over the plan of reorganization with Mayor Davis and Commissioner Edwards in the chambers yesterday, and explained its working details at length.

KAUFMAN CONSULTED.

Mayor Davis had George Kaufman, his chief adviser, attend the conference. Kaufman explained that he had made an attempt to perform the duties of the treasurer in the office of the city treasurer. After listening to the plan of reorganization proposed, Kaufman advised Mayor Davis that in his opinion it met the requirements of the situation. The mayor agreed to lend his support to the plan. Kaufman pointed out that the only weak spot he could see in the plan was that the inexperienced treasurer might make it difficult for him to perform his duties without calling unduly upon the time of Chief Clerk William Fitzmaurice.

"We are standing sponsor for this organization," said President Jones, speaking for the civil service board. "But we want it understood that if there is any failure in the way it works out, it will not be a satisfactory excuse to blame Fitzmaurice if he is not given the time to devote to his own work which he needs."

"But it is conceded that this is a good plan of organization, and that it will work. It will certainly save money. This board cannot see how it could justifiably recommend that another clerkship should be created because there is a possibility that the city treasurer may not be able to perform the work that is laid out here as his natural duties. This plan contemplates that the city treasurer shall do all the work necessary to the performance of his duty as head of this office."

EFFECT SAVING.

The new ordinance will eliminate one chief clerkship, now held by Matthew McGuinness, who is resigning to become chief clerk of the city of San Francisco. One position of senior clerk, which has not been filled for some time, and cuts $1500 from the usual amount expended for extra clerks.

The positions recreated are as follows:

One chief clerk, $2160 to $2400 (William Fitzmaurice).

Three positions of head clerk, $1680 to $1920 (Hans, Henden and Rooney).

One position of cashier, $1680 to $1920 (Toyt and Raffetto).

Six positions of senior clerk, $1200 to $1540.

One position of junior stenographer, $780 to $1080.

Ten positions of extra clerk, as needed, at the rate of $100 a month, to be used at the rush time of the year of tax collecting.

L. G. Jordan, whose position of city expert was recently abolished by the new administration, asked that the reorganization be postponed, as he could not give the best service to the city under the present conditions.

JORDAN ASKS POSTPONEMENT.

Jordan declared in his letter that he could not work in a reorganization which was so untrustworthy, that it needed endorsement, and declared that he had no faith in the sincerity of the majority of the civil service board.

Jordan's letter follows:

"Gentlemen I have been notified today by the abolition of the office of the Expert which has been held by me to be heard by your board tonight. I am writing to request an indefinite postponement for the following reasons:

"First, it does not seem likely that the issue can be kept one of civil service jobs and also that what can be indicated better in other cases.

"Second, Much of the work I have been doing can now be done by others in the employ of the city.

"Third, The confidential relation formerly existing between higher officials and myself cannot continue because they do not wish my services in that capacity and because I could not very well profit there, lacking, as I do, confidence in the sincerity and singleness of purpose of the civil service board.

"I could not accept the word of the chief magistrate in any matter of importance unless it was corroborated by a good endorser. The controlling authorities seem to expend their most strenuous efforts in attempting to repair their own blunders.

"From the above it is understood that postponement under this request waives my right to compensation from this time should reinstatement subsequently occur."

Respectfully,

POSTPONEMENT GRANTED.

The board decided to postpone indefinitely the holding of an examination for the position of revenue expert, the position held on temporary appointment by C. Stuart MacCallum. The action was taken in view of the proposed action of the city council in abolishing the position. MacCallum had not applied to take the examination and would have been automatically eliminated by the creation of an eligible list by the civil service board.

A committee from the Building Trades Council, consisting of S. J. Donahue, J. N. S. and M. J. McDonough, appeared before the board to discuss the wage scale of common laborers paid by the city, which is lower than the average in other California cities and is lower than the average in private employ.

WAGE SCALE DISCUSSED.

"The municipality should look at this from a humanitarian point of view," said S. J. Donahue. "The lowest possible wage upon which a man with a family can get along is $2 a day. It may be true that the market is regulated by the law of supply and demand, but this should not be the basis of consideration by the city. The city should set the initiative on this matter of minimum wage. A man employed by the city should be permitted by his compensation a decent livelihood."

President Jones explained that it was the purpose of the board to give the problem careful and fair consideration. According to the preliminary report prepared for the civil service board, it would cost the city over $20,000 a year in addition to the present payroll to make the minimum wage $3 a day.

Matthew McGuinness, chief deputy under City Treasurer P. A. Cooley, asked a leave of absence of 30 days without pay. The board granted one week without pay pending reorganization of the department, which will probably result in the reduction of this position to a lower rank.

PUT OFF EXAMINATION.

The board postponed for one month the examination for assistant operator in the fire and police telephone and telegraph station in order to obtain additional applications.

The appeal of H. M. White, electrical inspector discharged by Commissioner F. E. Jackson on charges that he was under the influence of liquor, was set for a week from next Tuesday night for the board.

A communication was received from the executive committee of the municipal civil service employees' association offering the co-operation of the organization in any work of investigation undertaken by the board. The letter was placed on file.

Old Frigate Franklin
Likely to Be Sold

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The old steam auxiliary frigate Franklin, receiving ship at Norfolk navy yard, probably will be sold at auction soon, as no longer fit for any use by the navy. The ship has been a source of expense for repairs for years, and it is understood her sale as junk has been recommended to Secretary Daniels.

The Franklin was completed soon after the close of the Civil War, and was one of the finest unprotected craft of her day. Ironclads had displaced wooden ships as a result of the battle between the Monitor and the Merrimack, however, and the Franklin was a sailing vessel, fitted with auxiliary engines of small power for use in ill winds or over soundings. Her two-bladed propeller could be hoisted out of water, giving the ship free action under canvas.

Ramazan Survivors Released by Greece

ATHENS, via London, Sept. 29.—10:25 a. m.—The Greek government has released the Sikhs and Gourkas who were survivors of the British transport Ramazan, which was sunk by a submarine. They were sent immediately to Malala in the Messageries Maritime steamer Sibon. Many of them had no opportunity even to obtain clothing.

There has been no previous announcement of the sinking of the Ramazan steamer of 2477 tons, although a wireless dispatch from Constantinople on September 21 stated that the Frankfurter Zeitung reported that a large British transport from Egypt for the Dardanelles had been sunk by a German submarine. This vessel could have been the Ramazan, however, for the Frankfurter Zeitung reported that the vessel in question was a 15,000-ton steamer which had been sunk in the Mediterranean, off the island of Crete.

The Ramazan was evidently carrying Indian troops either to the Gallipoli peninsula or to France.

TWO INJURED AS AUTO AND MOTORCYCLE CRASH

Frank and Manuel Leal of Gasland, California, were severely injured last night when a motorcycle they were riding collided with an automobile driven by G. Carlo, 1715 Eighty-eighth street, at East Fourteenth street and Eighty-eighth street. Carlo sustained internal injuries, Manuel Leal a fractured patella and internal injuries, and Frank Leal severe cuts about the face and possible internal injuries. All three were reported to the offices of Dr. C. A. Monroe, 3315 East Fourteenth street, where they were given first aid. The automobile driven by Carlo was the property of the firm of Bates, Romano & Aker, to which Carlo was employed.

MASTER BREWERS HOLD SESSION AT EXPOSITION

TRIBUNE BUREAU. Panama-Pacific Exposition, Sept. 29.—Today saw the big business session of the Master Brewers Association, and in addition a number of important special events, conventions and other affairs of the Exposition. The International Gas Congress opened its session today, as did the Safety Conference and Governor Moses Alexander of Idaho was the guest of honor at luncheon and a reception.

The American Humane Education Society held a special session in the Palace of Education, and Child Welfare Day was celebrated at this palace. The Idaho Day celebration was held in the Idaho building, and tonight sees another unit of the great Autumn Music Festival, Mendelssohn's "Elijah" to be presented.

CHILD RUN DOWN AND INJURED BY BICYCLE

Three-year-old Anna Kotz, 773 Fourth street, was injured in front of her home last night when run down by a bicycle. The child was playing in the street, and did not notice the approach of the bicycle, which came from around a corner. The little one was treated for bruises and lacerations at the Emergency Hospital. James Trammell, who fell off his bicycle, was brought to the Emergency Hospital to be treated for a sprained thumb and minor injuries.

MOTORCYCLISTS INJURED.

Manuel Leal of Gasland is suffering from a broken knee and bad cuts and contusions, and his brother Frank numerous bruises, as the result of a motorcycle accident last evening, when their machine collided with an automobile driven by G. Carlo, 1715 Eighty-eighth street, at East Fourteenth street. They were treated at the Emergency Hospital.

ESCAPED CONVICT SHOT BY POSSE

Otto Hooker Dies Denying He Killed Warden: Caught at Albany.

ALBANY, Ore., Sept. 29.—Otto Hooker, 37-year-old desperado, died here today after a short but spectacular pursuit, in which state officers, the sheriff of three counties, with hundreds of deputies and the police of a score of cities and towns, participated.

Hooker was discovered hiding in a vacant house here last night just twenty-four hours after he had been shot in a hospital here in a serious condition. He was killed by a posse of state officers. While being dragged from beneath the floor of the house he made a movement as if to draw his revolver and was shot by A. J. Long, a patrolman, of Portland.

Hooker escaped from a penitentiary work gang Monday afternoon. That night Marshal J. J. Benson of Jefferson attempted to arrest him, but Hooker snatched away the officer's revolver and shot him. The marshal fled to a hospital here in a serious condition. A few hours later Warden Harry Minto attempted to arrest Hooker on the railroad right of way between here and Jefferson and was shot dead by the desperado. Shortly before Hooker died he denied that he had been the man who shot Minto, but Guard Walter Johnson, who accompanied Minto, today declared that there was no doubt as to the identity of the warden's slayer.

COUGH CAUSES CAPTURE.

A report reached the men who were on guard watching the Southern Pacific trains at Albany that a resident had heard a man cough under the floor of an unfinished house next to his own. When guards of the penitentiary reached the house they discovered Hooker. They grabbed him by the legs and shoulders and attempted to pull him out from under the floor. He was lying flat on his face with his gun under him. Suddenly he twisted, rolled partly on his back and tried to shove his gun at his captors. Long, who was stationed close by with a rifle, fired. Hooker was the man who shot Minto, of one to two and a half years for attempted robbery from Umatilla county.

Wife Causes Arrest and Fine of Husband

The police were given a new experience last night when Mrs. Bernhard Bahnsen called upon them to arrest her husband. Usually the wife objects to the arrest of her husband after he has administered a severe beating to her, but Mrs. Bahnsen proved the exception to the rule. She caused Bahnsen to be arrested by Patrolman Shields for using vulgar language before her. Bahnsen was enraged over his arrest and finally obtained his release on $100 bail.

United R. R. Suit for Injunction Resumed

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Attorney William Cannon, representing the United Railroads, resumed the reading of the complaint for a permanent injunction against the city in the controversy over the municipal cars before Superior Judge Seawell today. The company is seeking to restrain the municipality from operating the California and Exposition cars on lower Market street.

VARIOUS THEFTS ARE REPORTED TO POLICE

Theodore A. Sargent, 2178 Grove street, reported to the police that his pocket was picked while he was on the Southern Pacific Seventh street electric local, a purse containing $21 being stolen.

The theft of a gold watch from a sample case at the Oakland pier was reported by F. E. Jeffers, 1773 Seventh street.

Wells Fargo & Co. reported the theft of a 38-caliber revolver from an express car, heard while he was on the Southern Pacific Seventh street electric local, a purse containing $21 being stolen.

Gen. Cremer Wounded by Mine Explosion

PARIS, Sept. 29.—General Cremer was seriously wounded at the Satory camp while watching experiments with explosives. He and his staff of 100 were hurled some distance when a mine was exploded accidentally. One of General Cremer's thighs was broken and he was badly lacerated, while his companions suffered less serious injuries.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TALK GIVEN BY F. WHITTEN

Frederick Whitten, president of the Tourist Association of Central California, was the speaker yesterday at the weekly luncheon of the Commercial Club, telling of the work of the organization and of the plans for the work of the next year in inducing immigration and tourist traffic.

Norman Hackitt, actor, will speak next Tuesday at 10 p. m. at the Commercial Club. Al Baum, president of the Pacific Coast League, will address the club members at luncheon tomorrow.

Great Radio Station Is Formally Opened

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—A message flashed to President Wilson in Washington signified the opening today of the new Great Lakes radio station at Lake Bluff, one of the most powerful units of the government's wireless system.

After the Presidential message has been sent dispatches of greeting were to be flashed to San Diego, Panama and other stations, thousands of miles distant.

POPE TO ASK TRUCE ON ALL SOULS' DAY

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—The Vatican, according to the Overseas News Agency, has received a report from Switzerland that Pope Benedict is preparing a circular letter to the belligerents, asking for a general truce on All Souls' Day, dedicated to the memory of the soldiers who have perished in the war.

One Phone to Every Seven in Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Chicago now has 400,000 telephones in use and, according to an announcement made today, is second in the list of cities in the number of telephones in operation, being exceeded only by New York, where the total is 428,750. Proportionally, Chicago is in the first rank, as it has one telephone to every seven inhabitants.

PLANS OUTLINED FOR BIG TRADE JOURNEY

Plans for the trade excursion to Chicago and intervening towns, in which sixty business men will visit the latest trade points of Northern California, are being rapidly completed by the Commercial Club. The trip will be made by a special train and the travelers will greet heads of commercial organizations in the different towns. Dr. E. Graves is chairman of the committee in charge, assisted by V. O. Lawrence, G. C. Barnhart, O. S. Ormick and V. K. Sturges.

JOHN OFFICIALS RESIGN BERTHS

Quit Office and Assign Reasons for Stepping Out.

ON Sept. 29.—The resignation of John J. Sweeney, chief of the city clerk's office, was given to the city clerk.

Reasons are given for the desire of office holders to step out and make money in the city.

Officials who would give up their berths are Trustees E. H. J. N. Durney, and City Attorney Henry McGinness. The trustees' resignation is given by Mayor J. F. Rock.

Trustees Charles Wright and James J. Durney.

claim the city marshal's office, as a bone of contention, is the of the split on the board and the resignations is strenuously denied and affirmed as the indirect cause of the resignations.

resignations were due to causes political," said City Attorney McGinness. "The resignation of the trustees is not a resignation as such, but a resignation as a trustee."

It is not in harmony with the trustees remaining, but was with the resignation of the trustees.

of time to give to municipal affairs to my other business interests as cause of my resignation," said Kaupp today. "Reports of lack of my resignation."

for Durney, his resignation is falling, caused him to offer his resignation, the case of McGinness, the board "it could economize by dispensing with the services of a city attorney. The is paid $15 monthly. The resignation is not concerned in the resignation."

YOUTHFUL ELOPERS ARE BROUGHT BACK

Unsophisticated Pair Flee From
Hollister; Man Will Face Trial.

WATSONVILLE, Sept. 29.—The brief period of freedom from conventional restraint ended, Manuel Pacheco and Mrs. Delphina Andrade, who eloped a week ago Tuesday, have been brought back, the former to face prosecution on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, his 18-year-old companion to face charges of kidnapping and general notoriety that her action is bound to arouse. Pacheco is in jail awaiting a hearing and Mrs. Andrade is staying at the home of a relative.

Pacheco was arrested near Centerville, Alameda county, at the home of his father, by Constable Frank Rose. The prisoner was known to Rose and he had small difficulty in apprehending him after he had been apprised of the situation. Sheriff Rubler of the local office, who the elopers would probably be found in that vicinity.

Mrs. Andrade, though only 16 years old, is the mother of two children, one five months old and the other aged about 13 months. Before leaving she and Pacheco made a night drive into the mountains to place the babies under the care of her parents, residents of Lone Tree district.

Her story of the affair is, in substance, that she was not treated by her husband, Frank Andrade, the pound-master, who failed to provide the necessities of life for her and the children. Pacheco came to town a stranger. She met him in the course of their acquaintance and he convinced her of his worth. She was sympathetic and finally when she told him that she had reached a point where she could stand her home life no longer, but didn't know what to do about it, he suggested that he take her to the home of his folks in Alameda county, where his sisters would receive her.

Mrs. Andrade asserts that their association was without evil prior to the time they left Hollister and takes an equal share of blame for what afterward happened. Both the elopers were rather unsophisticated as is indicated by their divorce idea. Pacheco suggested that maybe they had better stay in Hollister a day longer and get a divorce.

When they reached his father's home, Pacheco told his folks that they were married and the folks knew no different until the arresting officer arrived.

The girl-wife tells her story frankly. She says that she stood her home life until she became desperate and then took the first avenue of escape that offered. She feels that her miserable former condition is punishment for what afterward happened. And she declares that she welcomes a chance to take her story into court.

ONE HUNDRED MELONS
ARE REPORTED STOLEN

SALINAS, Sept. 29.—Someone stole 100 watermelons from a freight car at the local Southern Pacific depot some time on Tuesday afternoon. The melons were received by Railroad Officer Jerry McLean, who came over today to investigate the alleged theft. The door of the car was pried open and 100 melons taken, according to the consignee, who is anxious to have the matter investigated. It is believed someone must have made the raid in the dark hours and taken away the lot in a wagon. It would be too big a job to carry the 100 melons away by hand.

CHLORINE GAS VICTIM
STUDENT MAY RECOVER

RENO, Sept. 29.—Hope now is held out for the recovery of Francis Young, freshman at the University of Nevada, who was rendered unconscious by chlorine gas during a college "high jinks" at Sparks late Friday night.

Young was rendered unconscious by the fumes of chlorine gas from a fire extinguisher and did not regain consciousness until late Saturday afternoon.

University authorities now are endeavoring to learn who are responsible for Young's condition.

Young is the son of H. W. Young, of Reno, an assayer.

MUST PAY OWN BILLS.

MARTINEZ, Sept. 29.—Constable county officials and others who have been traveling around Contra Costa county at the expense of the county in automobiles, received a setback this week when the Board of Supervisors decided to allow no more "riders' bills. Railroad fare will be permitted in transporting prisoners, but machines will have to be paid for out of other than county funds for the rest of the year.

Five Hundred Becoming Perfect for Benefit Production

The more than 500 young people of the bay cities who are taking part in the production of "The College Hero," which will be given at the municipal auditorium opera house on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening, October 4, 6 and 8, are rapidly becoming perfected in their lines and the big musical play promises to be among the most successful of the kind ever given in Oakland group theatres for the second act of the play will be held in the ballroom of the Hotel Oakland on Wednesday evening and there will be a mass rehearsal of those appearing in the first act on Thursday evening.

All the principals and members of the choruses will be on hand. Instructions in the art of makeup will be given by the cast, which will be given by the coaches who have been secured by the board of managers of the Oakland New Century Club Settlement Association, under whose auspices "The College Hero" is being given.

Interest is keen throughout the east bay cities in the coming benefit play. The merchants have offered handsome prizes to be awarded to the members of the cast, selling the largest number of tickets and next Saturday has been set aside as "College Hero" day, all the motor cars to "College Hero" performers and "College Hero" posters to be placed in all the stores. Another feature will be the giving of interesting prizes to those taking part in the stores of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda. The poster contest, which closed Saturday, was a big success and many splendid designs were submitted. The judges of the contest, Miss Mollie Connors, H. C. Capwell and E. J. Jones, are now drawing up the list of winners and will announce their decision in a few days.

Among the prominent men who will be on the stage are Judges W. H. Donahue and F. B. Ogden and Sheriff Frank Barlow. A number of interesting musical features by Miss Elizabeth Short, the child pianist; Mrs. Stella Coughlin Jellison, Mrs. Bernice Van Gelder Walcott, Miss Roxana Vile, Earl Little and others will be given. Clever dancing acts will be given by Miss Gladys Garfield and Miss Virginia Harris. In the grand scene of the second act the members of Battery B, Captain Huber commanding; Company W. P. Crichton, and the National Guard of California, will take part.

The following performance of "The College Hero" dancing and dinner parties will be given in the ballroom and dining room of the Hotel Oakland. The board of managers of the Oakland New Century Club have asked the hotel management to do this and many parties are already being formed.

LIVESTOCK DISEASE IS FOUND IN TWO PLACES

EXETER, Sept. 29.—A warning to cattle owners has been issued against the prevalence of blacking among stocks, by G. S. Rey, county veterinarian. The disease is gaining an unstable headway in the county and threatens to cause losses unless checked. The disease generally affects only young stock up to a year old. This year cases of 3-year-olds being affected, is noted. Vaccination is recommended.

MADERA, Sept. 29.—Dr. L. A. Danielson sent to Fresno today in company with a C. Rosenberg, state inspector of sheep and cattle, to inspect stock and to be infected with Texas fever. Two veterinarians, one from the state and one from the federal government, have been on the west side for some weeks investigating the disease.

PAYS $40,000 FOR BAND
OF HORSES AND MULES

REDDING, Sept. 29.—Dr. H. Nordstrom of Chico, Butte county, is passing through the county with a band of 300 mules and fifty-eight horses which he purchased in Lake county, Oregon, for the armies of the extensive allies of Europe. The animals will be put in the cars at Red Bluff because the corral at Anderson, Shasta county, are too small to hold the band.

He has heard it worth $40,000 and is the largest that has been driven through Shasta county for several years. He left Lakeview, Ore., with the band September 17 with twelve men in charge, but as the animals became easier to drive the force has been reduced to five.

McARTHUR'S TRIAL IS SET FOR EARLY DATE

REDDING, Sept. 29.—In the Superior court Saturday morning the trial of the case of Mrs. Mary McArthur against the John McArthur company of McArthur was set for Monday, October 25. The trial will probably be a long one as an accounting is demanded by Mrs. McArthur, one of the largest stockholders in the corporation.

Justice Becker denied the motion of C. F. Kinball, attorney for Mrs. McArthur, that a referee be appointed. The court may appoint one later, if it is deemed advisable. W. D. Tillison is attorney for the defendant corporation.

PAROLED YOUTH, MURDER SUSPECT

Photograph and Description
Identified as Salani, Former Preston Inmate.

PLACERVILLE, Sept. 29.—Sheriff C. E. Hand has identified a photograph and description of a suspect in the murder of Maggie Baker, in San Francisco, as James Salani, a youth formerly of this city.

The photograph and description was sent here by the San Francisco authorities. Maggie Baker was strangled in that city Sunday night, September 13, with a bed sheet.

The description says the suspect is tall, weighs about 140 pounds and is about 25 years of age.

Salani was paroled from the Preston School of Industry at 10 o'clock here four years ago. It is believed he was 21 years of age when he left the reformatory. Here, he was employed in Fred Gee's tailor shop and later bought a cleaning and pressing establishment on Main street.

He was a singer in the Methodist church choir. After a year's residence here in which he became well known, he left town and subsequently committed a crime for which he was sentenced to San Quentin penitentiary. He is now a paroled convict from that institution and is a fugitive from justice.

WORK OLD STAMP
MILL IN CALIFORNIA

PLACERVILLE, Sept. 29.—The Morey mine, northwest of Grizzly Flats, owned by the late Mrs. Ellen F. Morey, are being worked by her son, Elwood Morey. The mines parallel the Mount Pleasant belt, and have been operated almost constantly since the late 1800s. Quantities of gold are shipped at intervals to the San Francisco mint, and the money thus produced is spent in tunneling and shaft work on a small scale.

A 4-ft. return air shaft, oldest standing in the state, is operated by water power, and has been running almost continuously for forty-five years, since 1868. The names of the mines included in the group are the Chief, the Record and Eagle Extension, the latter having been hydraulicked in the early days. The free milling ore runs as high as $12 in gold and other refractory ore produces a maximum of $60 a ton by the smelting or cyanide processes.

LAD ELUDES COPS FOR NINE MONTHS; CAUGHT

FRESNO, Sept. 29.—After eluding the officers of Fresno and Los Angeles for the last nine months, John Murman, aged 18, was found on the street by F. J. Meacham and turned over to the police. The lad ran away from his home here the last of January and the police have been on a quiet hunt for him since that time. His parents have moved to San Francisco and were yesterday notified of the capture of the youth.

The boy's father and mother were in Fresno Saturday looking for their son, having heard that he had returned to this city. Mr. Meacham is a friend of the family and happened to see the lad on the street.

The youth was charged with being an incorrigible and was booked at the county jail. Young Murman says that he beat his way to Chicago and then back to Fresno. For the past few days he has been at the Rescue mission. The police of Los Angeles had been asked to watch for Murman as he was friends in that city.

SUICIDE'S WILL FILED.

ANTIOCH, Sept. 29.—The will of Frank T. Brown, Antioch rancher, who killed himself September 18, was filed today in the Superior court. The will was written on a small piece of paper and makes his wife, Sarah C. Brown, sole heir. The estate amounts to $12,000.

ALLEGED INDIANS BUY
LIQUOR IN SALOONS

REDDING, Sept. 29.—Because there has been much sale of liquor to Indians in Redding, District Attorney Chenoweth and Sheriff Ross are keeping a close watch on saloons, several of them being suspected of breaking the law. Numerous intoxicated redskins are seen in the streets.

Anderson has complained that her Indian harvest laborers procure whiskey in Redding. Notices have been posted in all saloons, signed by the district attorney and sheriff, especially calling attention to the law and warning against the sale of liquor to any Indian, associate of Indians, or person of Indian blood.

HORSE TERRIBLY GASHED
BY TONGUE OF WAGON

NEVADA CITY, Sept. 29.—While riding a valuable horse belonging to his father at a rapid clip, young Jake Zanocco was thrown over a dived road, with a team coming in the opposite direction.

The wagon tongue struck the horse in the left side, cutting a frightful gash. Young Zanocco was thrown over a dived road, with a team coming in the opposite direction.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea, which lasted for over a week," writes W. C. Jones, Bu. N. D. It became so weak that I could not stand upright. I was recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days I was as well as ever." For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

FEAR FOR LIFE OF MISSING MAN

Police Posse Searching for T.
J. Edgar in Hills Near the Claremont Hotel.

Captain Charles Beck and a posse of police made a search of the hills back of the Claremont Hotel seeking Thomas J. Edgar, an ex-convict, who disappeared several days ago. A week ago, Edgar was last seen in the Claremont district last evening. Edgar lived at 4323 Webster street and his wife is prostrated with anxiety over his strange disappearance. Edgar's mother, who lives at 4323 Webster street, is also worried. He would seemingly go to sleep while driving his express wagon. It is feared that in one of these attacks he may have fallen from the seat in some secluded spot on the roads back of the Claremont hotel. It is also thought possible that he may have allowed his team to drive into the hills and later when he awoke may have searched for the team and got lost in the underbrush.

W. W. Edgar, 5774 Lovley avenue, a brother of the missing man, told the police that Edgar had been despondent for some time and that he feared that he might have committed suicide. Edgar has not been seen since last Saturday.

ROTARY CLUB SPEAKER.

Harry Schneider, noted Eastern trade expert, will be the speaker tomorrow at the luncheon of the Oakland Rotary Club, to be held at the Hotel Oakland, the speaker to discuss trade and business issues of the day. Short talks by other speakers will also be heard, and several other features of interest are planned.

BALTIMORE HAS MUNICIPAL SONG

Lyric Is Chosen by City From About 800 Poems Sent to Committee.

By Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 29.—This city, the bombardment of which by the British inspired the national anthem, is the first city so far as known to have an official municipal song.

Foster McKinzie, a local newspaperman, widely known as the "Baltimore bard" is the author of the lyric that was chosen last night from about 800 poems sent to a committee appointed by Mayor James B. Preston. The first verse follows:

"Here the stately Carroll flourished,
Here the guns of England roared
Here the old defenders thundered
As they charged with gun and sword.
Here the stately banner glistened
In the sunshine of the sea.
In that dawn of golden vision
That awoke the soul of Key."

POISONED BY ALCOHOL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Following a party in her apartments at the Hotel Porter early this morning, Miss Mary J. Brown, 31 years old, was found lying on the floor, apparently unconscious. She was taken to the Central Emergency hospital suffering from wood alcohol poisoning. The young woman would not say how she came to drink the alcohol and whether accident or an attempt at suicide was responsible for her condition. The stomach pump was used and an antidote administered and later in the morning the patient was able to go to her home.

YOLO COUNTY TO HAVE LARGE RICE AVERAGE

WOODLAND, Sept. 29.—Glowing accounts of the rice yields in Yolo county this season lead to the belief that over 9000 acres will be planted in rice here next March. The Yolo Water and Power Company today mailed circulars announcing that it will be able to supply irrigation to 10,000 acres. J. F. Garrette and G. E. Byrne, heavily interested in the Butte county rice belt, have gone on record as saying that the crop on the rice fields of L. D. Stephens is three and two weeks in advance of any crop in Sutter, Butte and Glenn counties. J. W. DeGelle, an expert from Chicago, who has had much experience in the fields in Arkansas, declared today that after much investigation he had found the rice maturing in this country well ahead of any he had ever seen. He also said that the soil, climate and irrigation facilities would tend to make this industry thrive in this county.

FREIGHT TRAIN KILLS WORKMAN INSTANTLY

HANFORD, Sept. 29.—Charles Glynn, who has been working in the fruit in and around Armona, was almost instantly killed when he attempted to board a moving freight train on the Southern Pacific railroad. He was brought to Hanford but died on the way to the sanitarium.

PRaises WILSON FOR HIS STAND

St. Louis Minister Is Heard at Opening of Big Convention.

By Associated Press.
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 29.—Tribute to President Wilson "who cannot be stamped by the jingo or prejudiced by the men who are crying for war" was paid last night by Rev. W. R. King, D. D., of St. Louis, speaking at the opening session here of the Southern District Efficiency Convention of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. The convention gave a demonstration of its own efficiency in perfecting organizations in just seven minutes. Fifteen minutes had been allowed for the work. Rev. James E. Clarke of Nashville, Tenn., was chosen chairman, and Rev. J. M. Patterson, St. Louis, was elected secretary. Dr. King discussed "Church Efficiency in Carrying Out the Program of Jesus Christ" and said: "Four things I hold responsible for the fact that war is in progress. They are: An aristocratic church, the unbrotherly community, the spirit of graft and the spirit of militarism. These things are crushing out the world today. Jesus fought against militarism and against nationalism. The world was his field. Had the church been true to its mission, this cruel, inhuman war, would not exist. 'I had every sincere means of peace, but universal peace will never be brought about until the church of Christ takes the lead. And I am glad that in this country there is a man in the White House who recognizes that in any world-wide peace movement the spirit of Christianity must have a hand. I am glad that in the White House we have a man who cannot be stamped by the jingos or prejudiced by the men who are crying for war.'"

WOMEN INJURED WHEN AUTO STRIKES BUGGY

CHICO, Sept. 29.—Mrs. C. M. Kenyon, 420 South Main street, is in a local hospital with her neck and back badly bruised and W. Killingsworth and James Fleming are in the Enloe hospital suffering from cuts and bruises as the result of an accident which occurred at Park avenue and East Fifth street, when an automobile driven by Frank Ricketts of Durham crashed into the buggy in which Mrs. Kenyon was riding. Mrs. Kenyon was unconscious for several hours. Her back is injured and she is suffering from the shock. The automobile was turned over and the two men pinned underneath.

WILSON AND PARTY ON TRIAL—WEEKS

Because Country Is Silent, Says Senator, Approval Doesn't Follow.

By Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 29.—Senator John W. Weeks of Massachusetts, in an address at a banquet of the Republican state and city committees here last night, said that the people were "in a state of wonderful patient, sympathetic and hopeful waiting," trying not to get into President Wilson's hands for negotiations, silence did not necessarily mean assent to methods that have been adopted by the administration. The success or failure of the President in the foreign matters, Senator Weeks said, will be the chief factor in determining the fate of the Democratic party at the next presidential election. When the time comes, he added, the diplomatic contentions with Mexico, Santo Domingo and Haiti may be considered by the people, as well as the European affairs. "The killing by Mexicans of American citizens in Mexico and the destruction of property owned by Americans in Mexico are the two most serious and glaring inconsistencies of the administration," said Senator Weeks. "As a result of the Pan-American conference, President Wilson has asked Americans to undertake enterprises in Central and South American countries. Mr. Bryan even suggested an issue of bonds to aid the development of those countries."

All of this seems ridiculous when we know that for the past two years the administration has failed to protect American-owned property in Mexico, telling the owners the government could not become involved by protecting the property of individuals who had expected to make a high profit out of their ventures.

Weeks discussed the question of military and naval preparation, which will face the next congress, and outlined the policy the Republican party has followed on this matter.

He said the Underwood tariff bill had worked a hardship upon manufacturers of new goods and a hardship upon consumers giving the people the benefit of low prices.

Other addresses were made by Congressman James R. Mann of Illinois and former Congressman James Watson of Indiana.

Congressman Mann favored a non-protection tariff, a protective tariff, security for the rights of the workingman and for capital, expansion of American trade abroad and protection for the flag for pioneers who enter the foreign commercial field.

On the subject of protecting American interests abroad, he said: "We might as well begin with Mexico."

The first duty of the Republican party when it comes into power again will be to write a protective tariff law and provide for a tariff commission of disinterested experts.

BUSINESS CANNOT WAIT.

"The industries of the country cannot wait for a tariff revision until after the tariff commission has reported. We want to start up every old industry and many new ones at the earliest possible moment."

"The rights of capital should be fairly well ascertained and secured. We cannot otherwise obtain the most complete investment of capital in great and new undertakings."

For also, in view of the conditions in foreign lands, put our house in order to defend and protect itself against any foreign nation or nations. Our wealth will soon excite the envy, not the cupidity, of the outside world.

"We have the wealth. We have the men. We must provide all that is necessary for our protection and we must do it soon and completely."

TROUBLE IN OLD WORLD.

"The highly developed modern civilization is liable, if not likely, to break down in other countries. The immense indebtedness of foreign lands is almost sure to bring about a revolution. If not many national revolutions. The interest burden is likely to prove too great for the backs of some of the foreign countries."

"That there will be trouble abroad even after a treaty of peace between the warring nations is secured seems most probable. We cannot afford to take the risk of not being prepared to defend ourselves and our rights."

MAD COYOTE ATTACKS LAKE COUNTY FARMER

LAKEVIEW, Ore., Sept. 29.—Reports coming into Lakeview the past week seem to indicate that the mad coyotes in the northern end of the county are still busy. Last week a dog belonging to County Commissioner E. D. Lutz was bitten by a mad coyote, and after fighting them with a fence rail Lutz was killed in killing both the coyote and the dog.

A few days ago H. L. Holmerson, while running a grain header on the F. D. Duncan place, six miles from Silver Lake, was chased by a mad coyote, being bitten by a mad coyote. The animal attempted to board the machine with the driver, but was driven off. Holmerson's only weapon was a small cleaver.

A horse belonging to R. E. Ward, which was bitten 204 days ago, was killed last week after attempting to bite several other horses.

NAVAL WAR GAME IS POSTPONED TO OCT. 6

By Associated Press.
NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 29.—The naval war game designed to test the defensive and strategic strength of the Atlantic fleet has been deferred from October 1 to October 6. For fifteen days the "enemy" fleet and the home fleet will be engaged in a game to respectively invade and defend the coast from the Virginia Capes to Cape Cod, the Navy Department allowing that time to the enemy to make a landing.

CONCORD CHURCH BURNS.

CONCORD, Sept. 29.—Fire, which was discovered by Charles E. Kline yesterday, completely destroyed the Concord Presbyterian Church and partially destroyed the old adjoining manse. The total loss is estimated at $7000, partially covered by insurance.

ARRESTED FOR NON-SUPPORT.

MARTINEZ, Sept. 29.—Deputy Sheriff Don Salton yesterday left for Los Angeles with P. C. Williams, an Oakland carpenter, recently engaged by the Shell Oil plant, who is wanted in Los Angeles for failure to provide for his two minor children.

CHINESE IS ACCUSED.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 29.—J. Nam, a Chinese employed at the Cardinal Club, was arrested today on a charge of stealing personal effects of members of the club.

Traveling Man's Experience.

"In the summer of 1883 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. My physicians worked over me from 4 a. m. to 6 p. m. without giving me any relief, and then told me they did not know how to cure me. I had been telegraphing for my family, and the hotel porter told me to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At 5 o'clock the next morning I awoke feeling better and took a train for my next stopping point, a well man, but feeling rather shaky. I was called 'the cholera attack,' writes H. W. Ireland, Louisville, Ky. For sale by Osprey Bros. Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

GUARD SECRETS IN WARSHIP PLAN

New Methods of Torpedo Resistance Declared to Be Found.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Hull plans of the two 22,000 ton superdreadnaughts, bids for which were advertised recently, are being closely guarded by Navy Department officials as they include new ideas as to defense against torpedo attack. While the general characteristics of the ships have been made public, no details of the hull construction have been given out.

It is understood, however, that the experiments with floating caissons began immediately after the effectiveness of submarines was demonstrated in the European war have thrown light upon the problem of guarding ships' bottoms from torpedo attack and the provision has been made in plans for the new vessels for greater subdivision and possibly for a degree of armor over vital sections.

The caisson experiments were begun some months ago and will continue probably for another year. Navy experts are applying their theories in actual practice in reaching their decisions. Specially constructed caissons are tested with full charge explosives. The results of the tests are kept secret. At the same time experiments have been in progress with chain torpedo nets suspended from the ships. The new ships will virtually duplicate the California class in appearance. They will have the clipper bows adopted for the California, carrying twelve 14-inch guns mounted three to a turret and will make 20½ knots an hour. In size, the ships will be the maximum that can pass through the Panama Canal, 650 feet in length and 97 in beam.

WILL RESUME WORK ON KLAMATH PROJECT

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 29.—Work on the Klamath project, which was stopped last June, will be resumed at once. The work will consist of the construction of drainage ditches costing from $75,000 to $80,000.

The plan is to drain the large area of land extending east from Klamath Falls to Tule Lake, and comprising part of the Lost River Valley. The drainage ditches have been completed, but materials remain to be built. The large ditches cost about $100,000.

S. P. Williamson, national chief of construction for reclamation projects, who is in the city, brought the news that means the opening up of a large acreage to settlement. Williamson was in charge of a division of the work on the building of the Yuma Canal.

Before the order was given to complete the drainage of the section between Klamath Falls and Tule Lake, action by the Water Users' Association was necessary, which was taken in July. Approval had to be obtained from the Secretary of the Interior, reclamation service and the chief of construction. Williamson has looked over the ground, and two large dredges will soon be in operation excavating the laterals to the main ditches.

The land to be drained is very fertile, and its settlement will add to the wealth of the project, and materially assist Klamath Falls in a business way.

RICE HAULING STARTS.

GRIPPER, Sept. 29.—Considerable improvements are under way on the road between this city and Colusa county preparatory to the rice hauling season, which will start within a few weeks. The rice in most part from Colusa county last year was shipped to Sacramento, but what was shipped here brought such good prices that the farmers of that section are anxious to bring all their rice to the mill here this year. The one obstacle in the way at the present time is the limited warehouse facilities.

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live."

Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong.

"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."

Mrs. MARTEA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

REPRESENTATIVE RAKER SPEAKS UP.

Congressman John F. Raker of Alameda replies with commendable patriotic indignation to the so-called American Truth Society of New York, the pro-German organization which is threatening members of Congress with political opposition and destruction if they do not agree to answer certain questions which have been submitted to them concerning the relations of the United States with the belligerent European powers. In answer to the impudent demand for a statement of his attitude, Judge Raker says:

"The hundred million souls of America are Americans. I consider that there is no prefix to be added to any name. Once an American always an American and for America and her future. That is my doctrine.

"I trust that you are right when you say 'The people will turn to you as guardians of their interests. When they do I earnestly pray that they will not be disappointed. They would be were we to follow the course pointed out by you.

"I have no quarrel with you or your organization, but I deprecate the method employed to coerce public men to take a course that I believe is un-American, which, if followed, would make the American representative a doll in the hands of organizations and societies, not founded or maintained for the public weal and welfare.

"In conclusion you state 'The press is without responsibility but you have sworn to protect their interests (I suppose you mean The People's), and you will have to answer the questions we now ask.'

"You now have my answer and my method of working as a representative."

The attempt by German emissaries in this country to coerce members of Congress will, of course, fail as it ought to fail. It is also likely, if persisted in, to bring some embarrassing results to those who are responsible for it. The American government has been very patient in its toleration and treatment of the paid representatives of the various belligerents in this country; but patience and forbearance, while they have their uses, also must come to an end in due time.

"We are glad that Representative Raker has made a forceful reply to the attempt to influence his official action by representatives of a foreign government. We dare say similar expressions of just indignation will be forthcoming from every Congressman worthy of the name, who is approached in the same manner. The German people naturally have a large number of sympathizers in this country and among them are many of our most worthy citizens. But it is one thing to have sympathetic interest in the German people and another thing to conspire against the wellbeing and efficiency of this government. It has seemed to us from the very outset of the war that the German government has been singularly ill-represented in this country, and almost unfailingly ill-advised in its attempts to win and hold public sentiment in the United States. Most of the schemes of the paid German propagandists have, by their impropriety, their boldness, their lack of discretion, defeated their own ends. We foresee a similar happening in the present instance.

MR. MANN AND THE TARIFF.

The Hon. James R. Mann of Chicago, the Republican leader of the House of Representatives, made an interesting and timely address before a gathering of Missouri Republicans at St. Louis yesterday. Mr. Mann is perhaps the most thoroughly well informed member of the House of Representatives respecting legislation and Congressional procedure. He invariably takes the commonsense view of important questions and expresses himself in a calm, sane, reasoned, convincing way. His speech yesterday was a plea for a proper protective tariff. He holds it to be the duty of government to at least permit prosperity at home, to provide means for defense against aggression from abroad and to secure the rights of American citizens and their property the world over. He believes these ends cannot be attained without the aid of a scientifically constructed tariff. He puts the case lucidly, pungently and very simply when he says:

"Such a tariff should be the means of raising a large amount of revenue, in the main paid by the foreign exporter. It should give a reasonable degree of protection to the American producer against the undue competition of cheaper labor abroad. We cannot maintain our high standard of living otherwise. Our producers, who pay high wages for short hours and exclude child labor, who pay high taxes for our costly governments and our fine schools, must not have their industries destroyed by the competition of those who do not contribute any taxes for our use.

The first duty of the Republican party when it comes into power again will be to write a protective tariff law and provide for a tariff commission of disinterested experts.

The business, labor and industries of the country cannot well wait for a tariff revision until after the tariff commission has reported. We want to start up every old industry and many new ones at the earliest possible moment.

The tariff commission will investigate and ascertain the facts more completely than has been done heretofore and tariff schedules of the future will be based upon full information obtained by scientific methods. Tariff schedules should be high enough to secure fairly the American market for American products, and as low as to permit exorbitant charges for the things produced. In other words, the rates should be reasonable.

Mr. Mann is heartily in favor of taking the tariff out of politics to the extent of having the schedules revised from time to time upon the recommendation of a competent commission composed of scientific experts and practical men. He believes the best interests of this country can only be served in this manner. He is in favor of abandoning the "log rolling" processes, the bargainings and yieldings to various local interests and other questionable means now employed in the forming of tariff legislation.

The Republican party is committed to the tariff commission idea. Under the last administration it had established such a commission and good results would have been obtained from it had it not been promptly abolished by the Democrats when they came into power.

Mr. Mann's desire for a tariff commission is shared very generally by the business men of this country. Not long ago the Chamber of Commerce of the United States took a referendum on the subject of a permanent tariff commission and the vote was unanimously in favor of such a body. This means that all the great trade organizations of this country favor the idea of a permanent tariff board. The administration at Washington may continue to oppose this progressive, reasonable and scientific method of treating the tariff, but it will be moving strongly against the tide of intelligent public opinion and in the end it will have to surrender or meet well deserved defeat at the polls. The National Chamber of Commerce has appointed an efficient committee to take charge of a campaign of publicity in favor of the tariff commission idea and leaders of the country in business, in the professions, and in public life are very generally supporting it. Mr. Mann is in harmony with the best thought of the time when he favors the tariff commission and his advocacy of such a body is another indication of his soundness and of his continued usefulness as a public servant.

THE RE-ELECTION OF MAYOR ROLPH.

According to returns at hand, James Rolph Jr. has been re-elected mayor of San Francisco by a very handsome majority. The vote is said to be the largest ever cast for a candidate for mayor in San Francisco. Next to Mayor Rolph, former Mayor Schmitz received the largest number of votes. Andrew Gallagher, the candidate of certain labor organizations, was a very poor third. The intelligent, well-meaning people of San Francisco, irrespective of party considerations and of class affiliations, gave Mr. Rolph their support, and it is entirely to their credit that they did so.

The magnitude of the vote cast for Mr. Rolph is to be attributed in a large degree to the quite widespread fear that there was a reasonable possibility of the election of the unspeakable Schmitz. The sensible people of San Francisco felt that it would be little short of a calamity to re-elect Schmitz mayor of San Francisco at any time, and particularly during the Exposition period, when the eyes of the world are more or less focused upon San Francisco. Schmitz apparently had the support of the loose, the lawless and the lewd elements of society. His election would have covered not only San Francisco, but the whole bay region, with a mantle of shame and disgrace. Every good citizen, not only of San Francisco, but of California and, indeed, of the country, ought to rejoice in the defeat of this scamp and ought to congratulate the people of San Francisco upon the good sense and right feeling which they displayed in yesterday's election.

THE OREGON AND HER BUILDER.

It is eminently fitting that an Exposition plaque should have been presented the United States battleship Oregon and that the presentation should have been made by Henry T. Scott, San Francisco's "Grand Old Man," who was president of the Union Iron Works when the Oregon was built and made her famous run from San Francisco to Cuban waters during the Spanish war. The Oregon has become one of the storied and historic ships of the navy, taking rank in popular esteem and affection with the Ironsides, Constitution and the Kearsarge. She rendered important service in the operations about Cuba in the Spanish-American war, but she rendered a still greater service to this country than mere participation in hostilities by arousing deep and widespread patriotic interest in the American navy. No single event in our history has served more effectively to create pride in the American navy than the Oregon's memorable cruise from the Pacific to the Atlantic ocean in war time.

The Oregon was admirably built. Her builders put into her the best talent, the best skill, the best material they could command. There was no thought of making undue profits at the expense of efficiency. The builders of the Oregon gave the commercial world a splendid and monumental example of fair dealing and honesty when they made a better and finer ship than the specifications called for. They are entitled to the praise and the thanks of their fellow countrymen and we are glad that the Oregon was brought to the Exposition, where it has proved one of the strongest attractions to visitors. It is a daily and powerful object lesson in patriotism and efficiency. The Exposition management should have had imagination and vision enough to rise above the routine pewter plaque in the case of the Oregon. Captain Reeves, her commander, who is an officer representing the finest traditions of the American navy, should have been presented with a golden memorial tablet. The coming of the Oregon here was a national event, one of historic significance, and it should have been recognized in a more handsome and impressive way.

THE MATCH VENDOR.

To the Editor: We haven't forgotten the too recent date when we had to suffer a fire or stranger for a match and mayhap received one of those self-phosphorused, self-combustibles, or in case of extreme necessity went through that disgusting ceremony of lighting his "snipe" for a light.

Our recently bereaved friend and fellow citizen, bereft of a penny, who would call upon the detectives and police of our fair city to abolish that safe, sane and useful institution, the match vendor, would relegate a street car system to the dump heap because he once had that experience of being shorn changed by a conductor.

Mr. Taxpayer, when you find an innovation in your community give it a boost and if it is not exactly ideal in the perpetrator would be willing to listen to your complaint. Along with all those "men, women and children" who are dropping their pennies in the match machine I notice the "fair" detectives and police are squandering their copper. Let them live and here's hoping they keep right on improving every kind of thing. Another case, in which it is to bone a man with "gummed-light or gotta-match" are gone.

FOREIGN NOTES OF INTEREST.

REPORTED BY UNITED STATES CONSULS.

Production of Bristles in Russia. According to a local authority, Russia is the chief source of supply for the best bristles, of which it furnishes 2700 to 3100 short tons annually to the world's market, or about 55 per cent of the total supply. The exportation of such considerable quantities of bristles is the more remarkable since the number of swine in Russia in 1913 was only 14,200,000, while the United States had 34,000,000. But it is only inferior swine that yield large quantities of bristles. Such breeds as Yorkshire, Hampshire, etc., have no bristles, while the wild swine of Siberia yield the best and most plentiful supply.

The same authority states that China takes the next place after Russia in the production of bristles, supplying about 1600 short tons per annum to the world's market.—U. S. Consular Report.

Railless Trains in China. The railless electric cars that were placed on the Shanghai streets several months ago by the Shanghai Tramways Company and subsequently withdrawn on account of the imperfect roadbed have now been restored, the roads having been rebuilt with concrete foundation and surface so as to be able to bear the weight of the cars. Five cars are being placed in service on one road. A number of improvements have been made in the cars since they were first placed in service. It is expected that this railless car system will be given a thorough test, and if it proves successful other routes will be established.—U. S. Consular Report.

Lack of Ships. Failure to secure the schooners needed resulted in the canceling of an order for over a million feet of lumber which had been obtained by an American concern through a trade opportunity submitted by Consul Walter F. Boyle, of Ceiba, Honduras.

Large Orange Crop in New South Wales. The orange and mandarin crops on the Paterson River, in New South Wales, Australia, this season were heavy. The fruit has large domestic demand throughout the country districts. Exports of citrus fruit for 1913 from New South Wales amounted to 2,352,990 pounds, valued at $31,450, of which 2,085,600 pounds, valued at $29,827, was Australian produce. This is the last year for which figures are available. Some of the mandarin trees of this district, according to the Sydney Morning Herald, yielded 14 bushel cases per tree.

Scarcity of Paper in Siberia. All of the Siberian newspapers, says the American Consul General to Moscow, 50 in number, are suffering from the great scarcity of paper left in Siberia since the beginning of the war. Beyond Lake Baikal some papers had to be discontinued for lack of paper; others were issued on colored paper. The prices of paper used for newspapers (most of which is supplied by Finland) at the beginning of the war increased by 20 per cent; in April a further rise of 30 per cent took place, while in May the printing offices received the intimation that the prices were subject to a further increase of 40 per cent. Under such conditions, notwithstanding the fact that the number of copies sold daily has doubled in comparison with the preceding year, most of the papers have great difficulty in making both ends meet. All printing offices are awaiting with impatience the opening of the paper factory at Tomsk, the first paper mill in Siberia.

The investment of capital in the paper industry in Siberia promises large profits.

Fruit Growers' Co-Operative Selling Plan. Five thousand Ontario fruit growers this season are co-operating with retail merchants. Year after year these fruit growers have been faced with the question of the proper distribution of their fruit, and many complaints have arisen due to certain localities receiving an oversupply, while other and larger sections of the country have been without sufficient quantities to meet the demands of the consumer.

This year these fruit growers got together and subscribed jointly to a campaign of advertising, the object of which was simply to urge consumers to see their fruit dealer and have him make provision for them by securing fruit in advance. The fruit dealer himself was provided with the same information through the trade press. This plan has worked so successfully that consumers all over Canada are today able to secure plentiful supplies of all fruits, and the retailer has increased his business, his fruit in many instances being sold in advance of its arrival at his store.—Consul Felix S. S. Johnson, Kingston, Ontario, Canada.

NOTABLE PERSONS.
Captain John J. Knapp, commandant of the Philadelphia navy yard, is dead from apoplexy. He was stricken at his desk as he was about to start on his physical test walk of ten miles.

The announcement is made that General Marchand, the famous hero of Fashoda, has been seriously wounded in the abdomen and has been forced to submit to an operation.

A cablegram announces the death of Captain F. F. Holmes of the United States Navy, retired, in Rome. Captain Holmes was navigating officer on the cruiser Baltimore at the battle of Manila bay.

Chancellor David Starr Jordan of Stanford has embarked on a tour in which he is scheduled to deliver an average of one address a day up to December 1. He is at present in Southern California attending the Ventura County Teachers' Progressive Institute.

HIS CONTRIBUTION.
She weighed close upon 300 pounds, but she insisted on entering the crowded street car, and as she stood and swayed with the movement of the car, she waxed sarcastic.

"If there were any gentlemen in the car," she said, "they would not allow a lady to stand."

And then little Dobbins got up from his seat with a sigh.

"Don't be cross, ma'am," he said. "I'll make one toward it!"—Wichita Beacon.

PAYING THE RENT.
He was deeply in love with his wife, but awfully careless about money matters. He started away on a long business trip leaving her short of money, and promised to send her a check, which he forgot to do. The rent came due and she telegraphed, "Dead broke. Landlord insistent. Wire me money." Her husband replied, "Am short myself. Will send check in a few days. A thousand kisses." Exasperated his wife replied, "Never mind money. I gave landlady some of the kisses. He was more than satisfied."—Technical World.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.
Judge J. J. Allen delivered an address on "The New Woman," at the monthly open meeting of the Y. M. I. last night. The other numbers of the program were a recitation by Miss Corbly; song by a quartet composed of Messrs J. Brady, J. Geary, G. McComb and F. D. Parrish; Italian dance by Miss Ruby Simpson; delicate expressions and fancy dance, Miss Pearl Hickman.

The heads of the different departments are protesting against the proposed ordinance which will take the power of signing requisitions from the mayor and transfer it to the chairman of the finance committee. They say that much valuable time will be lost by the city employees in searching over town to find Mr. Mott and secure his signature to a requisition for any small amount of supplies.

The ladies of the First Free Baptist church will give a recital tonight at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Meade, 1455 Brush street.

This evening Rev. Anna H. Shaw will lecture in the First Presbyterian church on "The Injustice of Chivalry."

Mrs. C. C. Harnett is recovering from her recent accident.

Adversity. Sweet are its uses, so the great bard said.

Go not thou, then, along misfortune's road.

With brow bent low and heart bowed down with dread.

But stand erect, throw off the loathsome load.

Go bravely forth, pluck from its venom'd head.

The precious jewel of the ugly head.

Professor Nearing and the Chains of Private Wealth

Prof. Scott Nearing of the University of Pennsylvania was dropped from the faculty of that institution recently. His friends say that he was not re-employed because of his habit of radical Socialistic speech. The trustees suggest that they parted company with Prof. Nearing because he was a conscientious person not at all agreeable to live with. There has been a disposition in some quarters to regard him as a liability to free speech.

The natural refuge of gentlemen of talent who fall out of their employment seems to be to become regular contributors to the Hearst newspapers. Dr. Bayard Hale, sometime emissary of the United States to Mexico, has ceased to contribute to Uncle Sam, and now makes his disclosures for Mr. Hearst. So Professor Scott Nearing, whose ties with the University of Pennsylvania were lately severed. He is a regular contributor nowadays to Mr. Hearst's publications.

It is in Mr. Hearst's American that we find him saying:

"So long as you have your college presidents and your college professors on the payroll of corporate foundations you will have the policies of your higher institutions of learning dictated by those corporate interests."

If that is Professor Nearing's opinion we must also conclude that as soon as we have our ex-professors on the payroll of Mr. Hearst we shall have their policies dictated by Mr. Hearst's interests. Since for the goose is just as good on the gander.

"Private wealth," says Mr. Nearing, "has been able to control political parties and the church; let it not control the schools. The schools must not take a dollar from any private donor. There must be no educational donations save the tax which all the people pay."

That is going some, to be sure! Does he mean that there should be no schools but the State schools supported by taxation? Nonsense! That is just as taxation Mr. Nearing should say: "My crowd is coming into power, and we propose to control education." On the whole, the college and universities that are supported by the funds of private benefactors have been the freest institutions in the country. A live legislature is much more to be feared as a curb on thought in a university than a dead founder or benefactor. The university supported universities are out of politics. That is a great gain to them. Their business is to discover truth and impart it, and, however they may at times be warped from that pursuit by temporary influences, in the long run they will stick to it, for the lure of truth is stronger than any bonds of prejudice. Corporation foundations will never dictate policies of instruction for long. Far more dangerous is complete State control of all education. Germany has had it, and we have seen the consequences, but that is Professor Nearing's remedy for the conjunctural tyrannies of private wealth.

As for the control of political parties and the church by private wealth, it is a new, a real threat! That it controls the political party now in control of the Federal government. The church is a huge aggregation of churches, opposing one another in various particulars and advocating various policies. Nothing controls them.

But private wealth does control the Hearst publications. As to that there is no question. It is a big, staring fact that no one will deny. Professor Nearing's "man" speak his mind with absolute freedom in the American, and that may be, but it is a good place for him to speak it, but his present employment completely destroys his case about the tyrannous influence of private wealth.

MASS-MEETING TO VOICE OPPOSITION TO NON-PARTISAN LAW

United Protest Is to Follow Meeting of Jefferson Club; Democrats Are Strongly Against Bill

Plans for a huge mass meeting of representatives of all parties, to be held next month, to fight the non-partisan bill were the outcome of an enthusiastic meeting of the Jefferson Club last evening, when leading Democrats of Alameda county spoke against the proposed measure.

Strong argument against the non-partisan bill was presented by the speaker, who was President Wilson's speech in 1910 on "Hide and Seek" politics, quoted by the speaker.

The principal points argued against the measure were that it would change government from a representative to a one-man affair; that moneyed interests and public enemies would be enabled by it to have their own candidates in office; and that only a small section of the voters would have an opportunity to learn the aims and objects of the different non-partisan candidates.

Governor Johnson's argument that small elective offices, such as those of constables and judges of townships, could be filled by non-partisan election was met by several of the speakers with the reminder that the political party of the state and the nation was built up on its small township and municipal units.

"Governor Johnson seeks to change the government from a representative to a one-man affair and to change the policies on which the United States has been built up," said W. B. Bunker, chairman of the evening. "It is to be decided whether a Murphy, a Barnes and a Johnson, I would rather take a chance with the first two, for they represent an idea, while Governor Johnson stands for one-man government. Non-partisan would take away from the people their responsibility so essential to good government," continued Bunker. "Besides, with no party to back them, men of moderate means and who possess an intimate knowledge of public affairs would not come forward as candidates, and only the wealthy would run for office."

MEN OR LAWS?

"Are you going to have a government of men or of laws based on principles?" asked H. H. McPike. "How, under non-partisan form of government, are the people going to know who the candidates are and whether they are for the people or for the predatory rich and public corporations? What chance would the average candidate have against the big interests? Start a man out in the primary and run him against some demagogue appointed by public corporations and backed by hired interests, and where is he? Unless there is some organization of the people who believe in certain principles there is no hope of equality."

"This non-partisan measure is one of the most dangerous propositions ever presented to the people. There is no real good, sound argument in favor of it. Governor Johnson's speech did not contain one good argument in its favor," continued McPike. "Johnson spoke of the non-partisan measure as academic or theoretical. It is a practical question, however. Non-partisan-

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—James J. Rolph Jr. was re-elected mayor of San Francisco by a landslide vote, the total official canvass of all the districts of the city giving him 58,814 votes. His majority over seven opponents was 9143. Former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz received 38,006 votes, and Andrew J. Gallagher 15,924 votes. The total vote cast was 119,557.

Police Judge Morris Oppenheim received the greatest number of votes cast, his total being 65,657, leading Mayor Rolph by almost 3000.

District Attorney Charles M. Fickert, who received more votes than the mayor, his ballot being 65,510.

CHOSEN AT PRIMARY.

Mayor Rolph, Police Judge Morris Oppenheim, District Attorney Charles M. Fickert, Auditor Thomas F. Boyle, County Clerk Harry I. Mulcrevy, Coroner T. B. W. Leland were all elected at the primary. Former State Senator Thomas F. Finn was also elected sheriff.

Attorneys Timothy Fitzpatrick and Edwin G. Bath will fight for the remaining position of police judge at the November election, as will also 18 of the 56 candidates for supervisor.

PARK OPTIONS TERMINATED BY BOARD

Oakland Loses Claim to the Sather and Trestle Glen Sites by Resolution.

Oakland yesterday lost all future claim to Sather Park and Trestle Glen on options entered into a year ago, when the Board of Park Directors adopted resolutions terminating the agreements to purchase, on the ground that "the Council of the City of Oakland has not appropriated sufficient money to carry out the terms of the options."

The resolution was adopted on motion of Director Heesman and voted for by Dr. C. H. Buteau, president of the board. Director Walter K. Cole was not present at the meeting. This action terminates the options given the city on October 27, 1914, by the Realty Syndicate and the Wickham Havens Company, to secure which the former board of park directors had paid out $7500.

City Attorney Paul C. Morf and Mayor John L. Davis have held that the old park board had no right to enter into agreements to purchase the park properties without first having secured the authority of the city council to do so. They have further held that the directors of the board, ordering the purchase, may be held legally responsible for the return of the $7500 to the city treasury.

"The directors of the board have no authority to enter into these options," Director Heesman said. "Some one may be injured in either of these properties and the city could be held to account for it. We might as well terminate these options immediately. Our hands are tied. We cannot purchase the property. The council has given us barely sufficient money with which to maintain the present parks."

TERMINATE OPTION.

Last year's park directors—the late James P. Edoff, Walter G. Manuel and James Hinkley Taylor—entered into the purchase agreements on the understanding that the council would grant them the money to carry out the terms of the options. This year's directors—the late George L. Kaufman, who had so much to do with the making up of the budget, were true. Kaufman claims that we will receive thousands of dollars from various sources which we had not counted on and which will swell our park funds considerably. We only agreed to pay this money back in the event that this proved to be true. It will not be paid back otherwise.

On motion of Heesman, the clerk was then instructed to notify the council of this action. The $250 which has been transferred to the park fund is for the payment of the expenses of next Sunday's concert.

WANT WORDS OMITTED.

The secretary of the board was instructed to request the city council to omit the words "intended only as a loan to the park board" in future resolutions giving the latter body money with which to continue the Sunday concerts in Lakeside Park. The order was made after a council resolution transferring $250 to the park funds from the entertainment fund had been read.

"That is not right," Dr. Buteau declared. "These words, intended only as a loan to the park board, are not correct. It was understood by the city council that we accepted this money and agreed to pay it back only if the statements made by George Kaufman, who had so much to do with the making up of the budget, were true. Kaufman claims that we will receive thousands of dollars from various sources which we had not counted on and which will swell our park funds considerably. We only agreed to pay this money back in the event that this proved to be true. It will not be paid back otherwise."

On motion of Heesman, the clerk was then instructed to notify the council of this action. The $250 which has been transferred to the park fund is for the payment of the expenses of next Sunday's concert.

nominated, as were also the selections of the Municipal Conference. Fitzpatrick received 36,654. His next opponent, Bath, received 35,387 votes. The latter tabulated official canvass may change the positions of Zach and Taffie, as but little over 100 votes separate them.

The run of Judge Morris Oppenheim, in view of the fact that there were eleven candidates for police judge in the field, is considered remarkable. Mayor Rolph was elected by a big vote. His majority, in view of the fact that both of his opponents made a tremendous fight, is considered a good one. Rolph received the largest vote ever cast for a mayor in this city. Credit for his victory at the primary is given to women supporters. It is believed that but for the ladies who rallied to his support the mayor would have had to oppose Schmitz at the general election in November.

The completed returns showed that Ginty had lost the election at the primary to the office of assessor by 1063 votes. He received a little over 1000 votes less than the combined votes of his opponents. He seems assured of election in November, as he leads William H. McCarthy by more than 25,000, having received nearly twice as many as the supervisor. Thomas Finn received the largest majority. Although his total vote falls a little short of that given to Mayor Rolph, his majority over his combined opponents is 13,600.

Dr. Leland for coroner received 92,545, but there was little opposition to his office, as well as that for county clerk and auditor.

As a result of yesterday's election the contest in November sinks into comparative insignificance and the choosing of one police judge and nine supervisors will be the only duty in the hands of the voters.

GINTY GIVES SURPRISE.

One of the most surprising features of the election was the showing made by Assessor John Ginty, who ran away from Supervisor William H. McCarthy, who had spent a large sum of money and used tremendous influence to get elected.

'PARTNERS' IN WIFE BREAK BONDS

Mining Men Discover Each Is Wedded to the Same Woman.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—The dissolution of an unusual "partnership" will be completed in the divorce court when George Ramey asks an annulment from the grounds that he had married his wife during the first session of court today.

G. F. Manes, a friend of Ramey and companion in mining ventures, secured a divorce from the woman, from whom Ramey will ask annulment of the marriage bonds.

Companions and friends in mining developments the two men discovered their attorney, Ernest E. Rogers, declared today, that they were also "partners" in the matter of a wife.

Manes told his story today in the divorce court as follows:

"I married Mrs. Manes in Los Angeles in 1905. Some time later I heard that she had previously been the wife of a man named August Sheip in Freeport, Ill. I had the records searched, however, and failed to find anything to support the report."

MEETS OTHER HUSBAND.

"Later I met George Ramey. He was a mining man and we had many interests in common, and we met frequently and talked of mining. Finally we discussed personal matters and Ramey showed me a picture of his wife, who, he said, had married him. The picture was of Mrs. Manes."

"Ramey told me he had married her in 1913 and she had deserted him."

"The attorney said neither man knows the present whereabouts of the woman. She was last seen in a recent escape from Mexican bandits. With a man by the name of Goode they were making their way out of Mexico with $6000, the proceeds of a mining venture. Bandits overtook them, robbed them of the coin and shot Goode. Manes escaped across the border."

Says Yuan Shi Kai Does Not Wish Crown

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 29.—Yuan Shi Kai, president of the republic of China, would not accept an emperorship, according to Dr. F. J. Goodnow, legal adviser to the Chinese government, who arrived here from the Orient yesterday on the liner Manchuria. Dr. Goodnow gives Yuan Shi Kai himself as authority for the declaration.

Dr. Goodnow, who said that the Chinese republic is a success, declined to discuss his own recommendations for China's constitution. The Manchuria passengers include 124 German refugees, bound for San Francisco.

Bryan Praises Wilson in Nashville Address

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 29.—William J. Bryan, in an address here last night, paid the following tribute to President Woodrow Wilson:

"Happy for our nation that we have in the White House this time a President who believes in setting the old world a good example instead of following the bad example which the old world sets in this war. What an unspeakable misfortune it would have been if in such an hour as this the national had been under the leadership of a President inflamed by the false philosophy which has plunged Europe into the abyss of war."

Desires to Communicate With All Deaf People

Unusual Request Arouses Much Curiosity.

There is much speculation going on regarding the above statement, but it is not an extraordinary request when the facts are known. The "Little Gem" Ear Phone in the Liberal Arts building, recently awarded the Gold Medal for the best instrument for the deaf, is very desirous of reaching all deaf people, either by mail or by a personal interview. The manufacturers of this wonderful little device are confident that many people who are now deaf can be made to hear by the use of this instrument. The California Optical Company are exclusive agents for the "Little Gem" and will be glad to receive inquiries and demonstrate its wonderful merits.

Meets Schoolmate Of 37 Years Ago Capt. Hannigan, U. S. A. Shows Fine Memory

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29.—After thirty-seven years two schoolmates met at Sacramento and M-street, and when the two old schoolmates met it was purely by accident.

Captain Hannigan, United States army, on detached service and living in Sacramento, was standing at Fourteenth and M-street, waiting for a car. C. D. Kelly, employed at 1523 N. street, was passing along.

Captain Hannigan was in khaki uniform without any insignia of rank. Kelly, who served during the Spanish-American war as a sergeant, copied the uniform and decided to make himself acquainted with the army officer.

"Howdy," said Kelly. "What outfit are you with?"

Captain Hannigan drew himself up to his full height. He gathered all the decorum that goes with the rank of captain in the regular army.

"I am Captain Hannigan, United States army, detached service," he began. "How in thunder are you, Dan Kelly," he finished.

"Can you beat that?" said Kelly a few hours later. "I hadn't seen Hannigan for thirty-seven years and he knew me right off the reel. I was dumfounded that he knew my name and it was some little time before I recognized him. He and I went to school together in Texarkana, Ark. I left there in 1879 and hadn't seen him since 1878. I didn't know he was in the service."

Kelly was quartermaster sergeant with the Thirty-fourth Infantry during the Spanish-American war. He also served in the United States cavalry.

This speaker, who next to Ty Cobb is considered the greatest all-around player in baseball was born in Hubbard City, near Dallas, Texas, on August 24, 1883. Speaker started his baseball career as a pitcher but owing to his heavy hitting, was shifted to the outfield where he has since been a great success. Speaker has finished right behind Cobb in all-around playing for a good many years and Boston fans are depending on him to hit the great Alexander and break down the Phillie defense. Speaker is a right-handed batter and a right-handed pitcher. He is a powerful hitter and a powerful pitcher. He is a powerful hitter and a powerful pitcher.

Obstacle to Restoration
Of Racing Is Removed

The exclusive announcement published in the Tribune sporting extra last night that the New California Jockey Club had surrendered its lease on the Emeryville track, and the buildings were to be demolished caused a profound feeling of relief in the racing circles throughout the state. Hope was expressed today that the Golden Gate Thoroughbred Breeders' Association, composed of the leading breeders in the state, would be able to secure the track until the legislature meets in 1917, when an effort will be made to secure a favorable action of a bill creating a state racing commission and legalizing pari-mutuel wagering. The surrendering of the Emeryville track by Tom Williams is a stroke of good fortune for the Golden Gate Association if the latter is really sincere in its efforts to re-establish the sport of kings in this state. The exposition track can hardly be preserved, and with the Emeryville track, the only track available would be the Tanforan track, which would practically have to be rebuilt and which was never as popular as the Emeryville track.

The many friends of Walter Pomeroy, the Olympic Club long-distance swimmer, who suffered a fracture of the skull in an automobile accident a couple of months ago, are pleased to see him up and about again. He is back in the swim again and is training with an idea of taking part in the races. Pomeroy looks as hale and hearty as when he swam the Golden Gate a couple of times ago and across the bay, and says that he will be as strong as ever.

Some of the best long-distance women swimmers in the state will meet next Sunday in the annual distance swim of the local section of the National Life-saving League. The course will be from Alcatraz island to Fort Point. This will be the fourth year the event has been contested, and this time the mermaids will be sent away from the island at 9:30 o'clock.

'ORIGINALS' QUIT
COMMERCIAL CLUB
FOOTBALL BANNERCity's Famous Pigskin Warriors
Return to Independent Flag.

The Oakland Originals, the city's famous American football eleven, have withdrawn from the Commercial club and will return to their independent flag. This announcement was made this morning following a meeting of the players last night at which Manager Gil Thomas was informed by his men that they wanted upon returning to their former identity. The Originals were disappointed in the support they received from the Commercial club in their first season and they felt that they were sacrificing too much in losing the name and following them had built by hard work in the past three seasons.

The Originals will play out the schedule already arranged for them and will then after the "big game" with the Multnomah club. The local eleven is perhaps the best known of any on the Pacific coast for it has been the leading exponent of the game which is now being restored to public favor. What few fans insisted upon following the American style of play in the past five years, trailed the Originals faithfully and saw them clean up all opposition.

Leslie Watt, the champion Southern California prep school football player, one of the choices for the 1914 All-Southwest California prep school football eleven, suffered a fracture of three ribs yesterday at Stanford while playing in practice for the Stanford freshmen.

Gaelic football between the Parnells and the Rangers will take place at the exposition on Saturday. Also, an Irish hurling contest will be staged. The Irish hurlers will be made up from the O'Connell's and the Young Rangers. The football game starts at 2:30 o'clock and the hurling contest immediately afterwards.

The Stanford freshmen and the St. Ignace college rugby fifteens met at the Multnomah club last night. The Stanford team has been going great guns of late, having defeated the Palo Alto, Alameda and Technical high school teams in succession. Stanford's Reggie McCaughy has strengthened the Stanford lineup. He was unable to play last Saturday on account of the P. A. A. track and field meet. Freddie Staveland, last season's Kelley wing will be seen in action today.

CORNELL BEATS GETTYSBURG. ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Cornell opened its season by trouncing the Gettysburg eleven to a tune of 13 to 0. The Penn boys played great ball and held the New Yorkers scoreless in the first period. Scores by Kleinert and Barrett turned the trick for Cornell. Barrett attempted two field goals but failed.

The University of California has formed an organization to be known as the American Football Officials' Association. The association is headed by John Stroud of the University of California. It is behind the organization and will preside at the first meeting which will take place at Berkeley on October 6.

The Fremont high school-Oakland high game scheduled for Thursday, has been postponed owing to the fact that Oakland has a league game on Saturday. The two teams will probably get together next week.

DIAMOND FLASHES. The best bit of fielding for the day was made in the ninth inning by Sepulveda, who singled, when Schmidt, batting for Brown, hit one between third and short that looked good for a single. But, however, ran over second, made a hair raising pick-up and threw the ball to second forcing Melton, who was running to second forcing Sepulveda. He could never have gotten Schmidt at the first sack.

Blankenship had to alter his line up yesterday through the illness of Breton. Blank had allowed Geddon to go to Sacramento on business, figuring on using Breton at second and Hallinan at third. Breton was unable to play on account of illness and had to be used at the keystone bag, while Hannah held down first.

Walter Schmidt stole second in the ninth inning with Fittery watching him. Fittery turned to throw to second but everyone was asleep and Walter walked to the base.

Corhan electrified the fans again with his flashy fielding. He made several spectacular stops and nailed his man at first.

Brief ran a couple of feet over the second bag to get Roddy's hit in the first inning. He made a dive for second to get Schaller, who had walked, but was too late. One went behind Brief and had he fielded the ball would have stopped Ping at first.

Ducky Jones put up a splendid exhibition around third. He handled six hard chances without a boot. On two of the balls hit to him, he did not have a second to spare, bullet throws getting him.

Tribune's Selection,
All-Star Coast
Club

With the season practically over and the pennant decided, the baseball experts will soon be following the annual fall occupation of picking an all-star club. This year the job is not so difficult except for the outfield where a half-dozen players appear to qualify for the honor on almost even terms. At second base there is a hot fight for recognition. Many fans would give McMullin of Los Angeles and Stump of Portland a call. Billy Stov of the Oaks has hardly been here long enough to enter into the discussion, but he looks as good as any. Here is the selection of Billy Fitz. The Tribune's baseball expert:

ALL-STAR COAST TEAM.

Announcement has been made that the Exposition dates for the sultry meeting and the proposed world series exhibition have been settled to the satisfaction of both interests. A series of seven ball games with the world champions as one of the competing clubs will begin at the Exposition track Monday, October 25, the day after the Coast League closes. The series will run up to and including Sunday, October 31. The last game meeting will start Monday, November 1, and will last two weeks, Sunday excepted.

McLoughlin's Fall Due
To 'Pink Tea' TennisTom Bundy Says Californian Has Been Training Strenuously

McLoughlin has not been losing because of an attempt to change his style of play. He is not attempting a change, all newspaper comments to the contrary notwithstanding. Tom Bundy, McLoughlin's partner in the doubles championships at New York, brands the big noise about a change in style as a much bungled "McLoughlin is rusty in a slump," says Bundy. "We all have our off periods and this year has happened to be Mac's turn. Also Mac has not been training so strenuously as in former years. He has been playing 'pink tea' tennis with relatives and friends who would have trouble telling the difference between a racket and a sugar spoon. Consequently his speed has slackened and his ground strokes suffered."

McLoughlin has tried to excuse McLoughlin's lack of pep by stating that he was radically changing his game while the rest of the world has been waiting for his old time snap to come back. McLoughlin used to be eager for the ball to return from his opponent's racket and, intuitively grasping the exact location of the return was on the spot when the ball arrived. Now he makes his returns with a worried "hope it don't come back" expression on his face.

So the wireacres have deduced that he is supplanting his old go-get-'em style with a cautious and slower one.

"McLoughlin is considerably older than when he first broke into the game," said Bundy, when questioned concerning the former champion's physical condition. "During the past season he has been decidedly out of form and suffering to slight degree from a nervous stomach. The strain of continual playing in important matches is terrific, and it is beginning to tell on him."

Another local tennis expert, who has played in the east this summer also says that McLoughlin's failure to bring home the bacon is a pure case of slump. His ideas agree with those of Bundy, but he adds the significant point that this has been McLoughlin's first year in business. Work has brought an amount of strain and worry upon the star racket wielder to which he is unaccustomed.

Although McLoughlin and Bundy set the championship, the Evening Post spent a half column in complimenting Bundy's seen work and wonderful penmanship and hardly mentions the winners. According to the Post, McLoughlin was off color during the entire match and Bundy did most of the playing, saved points at critical moments and coached McLoughlin along as well. During the entire match Bundy stood out strong, able and sure of himself, while his partner appeared confused and slow.

MORAL. So we come again to the old moral on "pink tea" tennis. If you have championship aspirations do not play ping-pong with Sister Susie and Auntie May and gently pat the ball to them for fear they will get sore at you. If you continue to indulge in this weakness of the great our public will surely get provoked and perhaps the critics will not be so kind in your case as to excuse you because of "a change in style."

Ex-Coasters Battle in Bushes

The spectacle of two former Coast League stars battling each other on the mound in a semi-pro game was witnessed on the outskirts of Los Angeles the other day.

Bill Malarky, formerly of the Giants and a mainstay of Oakland's championship staff in 1912, was opposed to Pol Perritt, late of the Angels. Pol is a brother of the New York Perritt.

He came out victorious over Malarky in this game, which was between the Soldiers' Home team and the Burbank club, piloted by Malarky. Pol pitched sensational ball, moving down a large number of the semi-pros on strikes. Boots Weber, assistant secretary of the Angels, attended the game and was visibly impressed by Perritt's work.

ALAMEDA

ORDERS COUNCIL MAYOR FROM ALAMEDA HALL

Bartlett and Hammond Have Wordy War Over Street Expenses

ALAMEDA, Sept. 29. — Mayor F. H. Bartlett submitted his veto of the tax rate to the city council last night. In his letter he stated that he had no objection to the tax rate, but that he was not in favor of the council's action in ordering the council to meet in Alameda hall.

"You think you are a czar," said Councilman Hammond, "but you do not want to know the truth."

"You stop that talk," thundered the mayor, "or you will give me one more chance."

Councilman Hammond then defended himself against the mayor's written attack, saying that he had always tried to save the people's money and had never wasted money in the street department.

"Put him out," ordered the mayor to Sergeant Jacoby.

"I'll go," said Councilman Hammond, "but I will talk outside and the truth shall be known."

Councilman Hammond then walked out escorted by Sergeant Jacoby.

Councilman John H. Wilkins then urged the mayor to reconsider his veto and to get together with the council in a friendly spirit and fix the matter satisfactory to all.

"You are the only paid official here," said Councilman Wilkins to the mayor, "and the remainder are doing the duty in the interests of their home city."

"Paid?" queried the mayor.

"Yes," said Councilman Wilkins, "paid, enough for you."

"You could meet us half way," continued Councilman Wilkins.

"I have not asked a councilman for anything in this matter," said the mayor.

"O, yes you have," said Councilman Wilkins. "You have asked me, and I will not say for what unless you ask me to."

"You misheard me," said the mayor.

"I said that I had not asked any of the councilmen for anything regarding the tax rate," said the mayor.

Following the meeting Councilman Hammond was asked for an expression regarding the matter.

"This is just an aftermath of the city attorney fight," Councilman Hammond said.

The mayor has been very generous toward me ever since his election to his position. I do not receive the office. The mayor is endeavoring to discredit me, but I ought to give him credit for his refusal to listen and had me ousted from the council chambers. He does not want the public to know that he has ousted me because his candidate for the city attorney was not chosen. He has become a coward and a hypocrite.

Commission Opens Hearings
Today on New Financial Plan.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 29.—An unusual display of courage and fortitude was given by Louis Sporleder of Los Gatos yesterday when he directed workmen as to how to dismantle a grape crusher so that his mangled arm could be released from cog-wheels. Although the bone between the elbow and shoulder was pulverized and the flesh was torn away from tendons and veins, Sporleder was perfectly calm and the work was completed within a half hour. Physicians later removed a section of the humerus in the injured arm and joined the sections of the bone with bone plates. It is possible that the arm may be saved.

BOGUS CHECK PASSER BEING SEARCHED FOR

WATSONVILLE, Sept. 29.—A local merchant handed Chief of Police Whitsett a check Saturday afternoon which he had cashed on Tuesday and which had been returned to him marked "no funds." The chief is now looking for a man who he thinks cashed the check on Tuesday and cashed some checks and signed his name E. E. Young.

The check was made out to the bearer and was for a small amount. It was drawn on the Crocker National Bank in San Francisco. The man was a total stranger to the merchant, but a second thought was not given as to whether the check was good or bad. It was found that this same man had cashed a number of checks in the city for small amounts, but it was only one day. It is difficult to say whether the police will find the man or not, although a thorough search is being made.

DESERTION CHARGED IN SOCIETY WOMAN'S SUIT

Alleging desertion, Mrs. Jessie D. Nahl has filed suit in the Superior Court against Arthur C. Nahl, an engineer, of Berkeley. Both are well known socially and in art circles about the bay. Nahl's brother being Virgil Nahl, the artist. The couple were married in 1903 and have four children.

Mrs. Irene Miller of Berkeley obtained an interlocutory decree from Dr. Jared Miller of Los Angeles, testifying that Miller deserted her a year after their marriage in 1911. She was granted $50 a month alimony.

Frances J. Matheson was granted a divorce from W. H. Matheson, alleging neglect. Complaints were filed by Pearl Dorrah against Frank Dorrah, charging desertion. Nellie Schlichting against Frank Schlichting, charging cruelty, and Lizzie Medeiros against Joseph Medeiros, charging cruelty.

LADIES' AID TO ASSIST NEEDY IN FRUITVALE

FRUITVALE, Sept. 29.—A campaign to assist needy families in this district is being carried on by the Catholic Ladies Aid Society, division 27. Benevolent affairs will be held during the fall and winter months for the purpose of raising funds for charity. The first of these affairs was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. H. Gregory, 233 East Twenty-ninth street when twenty of the society members discussed plans for charitable work and participated in sewing articles of clothing for distribution. A benefit rummage sale will be held by the society of which Mrs. C. E. Schmitt is president.

MARE ISLAND NOTES

MARE ISLAND, Sept. 29.—The fact that the Navy Department officials did not wait for the Navy Department to request permission to bid on one of the new battleships leads the hull division officials at the navy yard to believe that this station stands a splendid chance to land the job.

As a result of Charles F. Walsh being transferred from the navy yard to office position, the position of quartermaster at San Francisco is now vacant. The position was transferred from the Labor Bureau to the office of the captain of the ward.

Public works officials at Mare Island saved the government close to $1000 this year as the result of harvesting the crop of oats at the navy yard farm.

Mare Island officers are still waiting for word from the army quartermaster at San Francisco setting the date for the arrival of the transport Crook at the local establishment. The vessel is to be docked and painted by navy yard mechanics.

VALLEJO NOTES

VALLEJO, Sept. 29.—William H. Huth is preparing to have an oil derrick erected on his property for the purpose of sinking an oil well during the winter months. Experts who have inspected the Huth property, declare that not only oil, but natural gas as well, is sure to be found north of this city.

Following the order of the Navy Department that the Mare Island estimates prepare a bill for building a $15,000,000 dreadnaught, battleship comes the announcement that the affairs of the North Electric Railway Company are taking such shape that by next year it will be possible to complete the extensions to that system and place it on a paying basis.

DEFENSE BEGUN BY REICHSRATH

San Leandro Trustee, on Trial for Alleged Malfeasance. Testifies.

Following evidence of the vote cast in the San Leandro Board of Trustees, City Clerk Cannon being examined on that point, and the reading of the information placed before the grand jury, Trustee Henry Reichsrath today started his defense in the superior court in his malfeasance trial. Reichsrath was the only member of the board who, after the charges were made, remained on the body to stand trial. The other members of the board of trustees resigned.

The specific charge against him is that of permitting Henry Schmidt, one of the trustees, to sell materials and supplies to the city of San Leandro.

In testifying before the grand jury, Reichsrath admitted auditing all claims presented by H. J. Crosby, who he said he learned later, was acting for Schmidt. He stated, however, that he did not hold up the bills because they were low and he believed that he was saving the city money. He was chairman of the trustees finance committee and as such had charge of all bills and payments.

The defense will attempt to show that Schmidt's sales saved the city money it is believed by the attorneys in the case.

Road Faces Charges for Recent Explosion

By Associated Press.

ARDMORE, Okla., Sept. 29.—Russell Brown, city attorney, announced today that charges of negligence against the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad would be presented before the Interstate Commerce Commission through the office of State Corporation Commissioner. City officials claim that the tank car of gasoline which exploded and killed 47 persons and wrecked more than a half million dollars' worth of property was leaking, and that the railroad failed to conform to interstate requirements for its safe handling.

They have set up an idol; they praise it loudly because they can smoke one after another with huge rapidity and never know that they have anything in their mouths but air!

Ah, perhaps I speak too unkindly of the domestic cigars which many praise to me.

It is quite true that I do not care to smoke Van Dyck, my ally, one after another with great frequency. I would not enjoy him that way.

Not many Van Dycks do I smoke each day, but every one is an occasion!—a feast-moment when care is all forgot and the rich aromatic fragrance of the rare Havana leaf takes me into sunny lands where every trouble is unknown!

ACCUSED OF PLANNING ACCIDENT FOR MONEY

STOCKTON, Sept. 29.—Whether John M. Goums, formerly an engineer, who is suing the Southern Pacific Company for $101,432 for the loss of a foot, deliberately planned the accident in order to collect insurance and damages, is a question which a jury will have to decide.

The accident occurred at Lodi on October 4, 1911. Goums says he was in the act of boarding a Stockton-bound train when the hand rail pulled off, causing him to fall under the wheels.

The railroad asserts that Goums had removed the screws from the rail and that when he fell he was careful to get but a small part of one leg under the wheels.

SPOT FILM OF FIRE LADIES.

The Alameda County Exposition Commission has arranged for a private run of moving pictures of the Oakland fire department in Pantages theater tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. The films showing this city's up-to-date fire equipment at work will then be sent to the Panama-Pacific and San Diego expositions and the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, where they will be shown on the screen.

ASKED FOR RESIGNATION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—State Department officials refused to confirm or comment upon apparently well authenticated reports that the resignation of T. St. John Gaffney, American consul-general at Munich, Germany, had been asked by cable because of his partisan expression of views on the European war.

Use Coconut Oil for Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain unrefined coconut oil, which is pure and entirely greaseless, is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get unrefined coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advertisement.
